The names of Joseph, Polly, John, Rhoda, Elizabeth, Daniel and Dillie are found in the Baptismal Records of the Pomfret Abington Congregational Church Records. 3:286.

However the Molly and Dillie in the above church records were not noted as such with those listed as Descendants of John Peck, of Menden, Mass. While that list has a Polly and a Lydia, those names are not included in the church records.

The dictionary shows that Molly is the dim. of Mary and that Polly is a variation of Molly, therefore it would appear that this is the same daughter.

Lydia does not seem to have a diminutive, Dillie seems to be more of a nickname than her actual name.

Since both lists give the names of seven children and all names match with the exception of Dillie, possibly Lydia was called Dillie.

1861 to the time of his death, he practiced his profession with success in the courts of the District Supreme Court of the United States, and the Court of Claims. The following is from the Washington Tribune, Feb. 15, 1876: "Hon. Thomas J. D. Fuller, a prominent member of the Washington bar, died at the residence of his son in Upperville, Va., on Sunday last, whither he had gone in perfect health some ten days ago on a visit, and while there, contracted a severe cold, which turned to a fatal case of typhoid pneumonia. Mr. Fuller was a man of great ability and genial disposition, and his death will be mourned by a large circle of friends and acquaintances."

"Yesterday in the Circuit Court his death was announced by Mr. James G. Payne, and the court adjourned in respect to his memory."

Mr. Fuller was twice married. His first wife was of Pearson and Anne mb. Mrs. Fuller was a paracter, and of a genial led after a lingering and 864; Mr. Fuller married abeth, daughter of Rev. Doolittle.

AYER.

JOHN AYER settled in Salisbury, in 1640. He removed to Ipswich, and later to Haverhill, Mass., his name being on the list of those who held land in that place in 1645. In 1652, he received a share in the second division of "plough-land." His name appears in the list of freemen in Haverhill, in 1646. This list has the valuation of each man's property; and John Ayer's is put down at £160, being the largest amount but one on the list. He married Hannah — Their children were: John, Nathaniel, Hannah, Rebecca, Mary, Robert, Thomas, Obadiah and Peter. John Ayer died March 31, 1657. His will was made March 12, 1657, and probated the following October. John Ayer had a large number of descendants. We are told by George W. Chase, in his "History of Haverhill," that, in 1700, one-third of the inhabitants of Haverhill were of the name of Ayer.

Capt. John, the eldest son of John and Hannah Ayer, was born in England. He removed to Brookfield, Mass., being one of the first settlers, and received large grants of land, some two thousand acres in all. He kept the inn of that place. He married, first, Sarah, daughter of John Williams; second, Susannah, daughter of Mark Simonds of Ipswich. He was killed by the Indians when they destroyed the town, Aug. 3, 1675.

Nathaniel, the second son, received land on his father's right in the fifth division of land, which was made in 1721.

Robert, the third son, born probably in England, was made a freeman in 1666. He received land in the second and fifth divisions of "plough-land." He was a Selectman in 1685, also under the new charter in 1692, where he is called Sergeant. He was one of a committee of three who were appointed to see about settling Rev. Benjamin Rolfe, the second minister in Haverhill. He married, in 1650, Elizabeth, daughter of Henry Palmer, of Haverhill. Their children were: Elizabeth, Samuel, Mehitabel, Timothy, Hannah and Mary.

Thomas, the fourth son, was a land owner in Haverhill in 1650, and received nine acres in the second division of "plough-land." He was a freeman in 1666. He was one of seven who were appointed to defend the garrison commanded by Sergeant John Hazelcote. He married Ruth Wilford. They had five children: Mrs. Ayer and her daughter Ruth, three years of age, were killed by the Indians, Aug. 20, 1708. Mr. Ayer married for his second wife, Mrs. Blaisdell, a widow. They had one child, Ruth, who died young.

Obadiah, the fifth son, received land on his father's right in the fifth division of the common land.

Peter, the sixth son, was made a freeman in 1666. He was a land owner in 1650, and received land in the fifth division of town lands. He lived in the northerly part of the town, in the West Parish. He was one of a committee of three to see about building the first school-house, and was also one of a committee for building a new meeting-house and settling the Rev. Benjamin Rolfe. He was one of three chosen to designate what houses should be garrisoned, and was on a committee for "examination of the rights that any have in common land." He was chosen a Selectman under the new charter, and was one of the first Assessors. In 1689, he was chosen to represent Haverhill at the convention called in Boston by the "Council of Safety," which was organized upon the imprisonment of Gov. Andros. In 1690, "Cornet Peter Ayer" was particularly made choice of to present, prefer and prosecute" the petition made by Haverhill as a frontier town, to the Council or General Court for "40 men at least to be a constant daily scout," etc. He was chosen a Representative to the General Court, in 1683-5-9 and 90. He married Hannah, daughter of William Allen. He died in Boston, Jan. 3, 1699, aged about sixty-six years.

Capt. Samuel, the eldest son of Robert and Elizabeth (Palmer) Ayer, was born in Haverhill, Nov. 11, 1654. He resided near the house of Capt. Ayer (2d). His name appears in the list of those who built cottages in 1677. He was a Selectman, a Constable, a Deacon, and was also Captain of Haverhill. During the arbitrary government of Andros, the condition of Haverhill, we are told by Mr. Chase, "was critical in the extreme. None knew when or where another attack would be made by the Indians, and it is not to be wondered at that their hearts were oppressed with the gloomiest forebodings. The following extract from a letter of Samuel Ayer, constable of Haverhill, to the General Court, under date of February 11, 1689,—in answer to a citation for the town to appear and answer to the charge of withholding the one-half of their proportion of rates,—touchingly represents the condition of the town: 'I pray you consider our poor condition. There are many that have not corn to pay their rates, more which have not money: to strain I know not what to take: we are a great way from any market, to make money of anigh thing we have: and now there is not anigh way to transport to other places: I pray consider our poor-condition.'"

In 1695, Haverhill for the first time chose a Town Treasurer, and Capt. Samuel Ayer was the person selected. In 1700, he was chosen to fill the vacancy in the committee for the "examination of the rights of any in common land," made by the death of Cornet Peter Ayer. His name is in the list of snow-shoe men.

Capt. Samuel Ayer married, Dec. 14, 1680, Mary

Johnson. Their children were: Peter, Mchitable, James, Obadiah, Timothy, Lydia, Hannah, Ruth, Abigail, and John.

On the 29th of August, 1708, occurred the terrible massacre of the people of Haverhill by the French and Indians. After the retreat commenced, as we are told by Mr. Chase, "Capt. Samuel Ayer, a fearless man and of great strength, collected a body of about twenty men, and pursued the retreating foe. He came up with them just as they were entering the woods, when they faced about, and though they numbered thirteen or more to one, still Capt. Ayer did not hesitate to give them battle. These gallant men were soon reinforced by another party, under the command of his son: and after a severe skirmish which lasted about an hour, they retook some of the prisoners, and the enemy precipitately retreated, leaving nine of their number dead. Capt. Ayer was slain before the reinforcement arrived. He was shot in the groin, and being a large, robust man, bled profusely. When his son arrived, he was told that his father was killed, and the informant pointed him out. He looked at the corpse awhile, as it lay on the grass, all covered with blood, and told his informant that that person could not be his father, for he (meaning the person slain) had on a pair of red breeches. Capt. Ayer was buried near Rev. Benjamin Rolfe; Capt. Wainright and Lieut. Johnson, who were killed, the same day. The inscriptions on their stones have become nearly illegible." Mr. Chase says of Capt. Ayer: "He was one of the most worthy, active and intelligent citizens of the town."

James, the second son of Capt. Samuel Ayer, born Oct. 27, 1686, married, May 10, 1711, Mary, daughter of John and Lydia (Gilman) White of Haverhill. John White was a son of William White, whose name was signed to the deed of the town of Haverhill, he being one of the pioneer band of settlers in that town. Lydia Gilman, the wife of John White, was a daughter of Hon. John Gilman of Exeter, N. H.

The children of Deacon James were: Samuel, John, William, Jane, Mary, Hannah, Joanna, Abigail, Ruth, Elizabeth and James.

James Ayer, Sen., was a deacon, and was frequently appointed on important committees. In 1721, owing to trouble between Massachusetts and New Hampshire about the boundary line, a royal order was issued in response to a petition to the king, referring the matter to a board of commissioners. The town of Haverhill chose a committee, consisting of Col. Richard Saltonstall, Mr. Richard Hazen and Deacon James Ayer, "to wait upon the Commissioners, and represent the affairs and boundaries of the town to them, provided the proprietors of the undivided lands pay the expenses of the said Committee."

Deacon James Ayer lived south of the new State line, and east of the West Parish line. Ayer's Hill, in Haverhill, was named for him. He was a large land owner. He was, like his father, a very large, strong man, and tradition says that he once climbed a tree to kill a wild cat, and with the aid of dogs killed it.

William, the third son of Deacon James Ayer, was born June 18, 1716. He is said to have been a tall, grave, religious man. He removed to Plaistow, N. H. He married Sarah Little. Their children were: William and Mary, twins, Daniel, Abigail, James, Joseph, Mary and Lydia, twins, and Sarah.

Daniel, the second son of William Ayer, was born Jan. 28, 1743. He married Sarah Adams of Rowley. Their children were: Sarah, married David Gyle; Samuel; and Daniel.

Samuel, the eldest son of Daniel Ayer, was born Dec. 13, 1777. He was a man of superior natural ability and of fine personal bearing. In early life, he was a farmer, his farm bordering upon the beautiful lake named by Whittier, Lake Kenosza. He removed from Haverhill to Andover, Mass., and became a manufacturer. Later, he removed to Albany, N. Y., where he remained for many years engaged in mercantile pursuits. He married Polly, daughter of Deacon William and Abigail (Gove) Chase of East Haverhill.

William Chase was a son of Dea. Ezra and Judith (Davis) Chase of East Haverhill; Dea. Ezra was a son of Jacob and Joanna (Davis) Chase of East Haverhill, formerly of West Newbury; Jacob was a son of John and Elizabeth (Mingley) Chase of Oldtown, Newbury; John was the third son of Aquila and Anne (Wheeler) Chase of Newbury (see account of the Chases).

The children of Samuel and Polly (Chase) Ayer were: Sarah Ann, married Dustin Dunham; Charles Coffin, married Ellen Melcher; Frances Somerby, died young; John Varnum; Elbridge Gerry; Mary Ann, died unmarried; and Ruth Somerby, who died young. Samuel Ayer died in Kenosha, Wisconsin, in 1847. His wife died in Kenosha, also.

John Varnum, the second son of Samuel Ayer, married, first, a lady from Philadelphia whose name I have not learned; second, Miss Lynch, a daughter of Judge Lynch of New Orleans; third, Elida Manney. He was a resident of Chicago, where he carried on an extensive business as an iron merchant and manufacturer. He died a few years since.

Elbridge Gerry, the third son of Samuel Ayer, married Mary Dean, daughter of Pearson and Anne Maria (de Les Demier) Titcomb. Mr. Ayer, when twenty-one years of age, entered into partnership with his father, but, after remaining two years with him, emigrated to the West. He settled in South Port, afterwards called Kenosha, where he remained many years engaged in mercantile pursuits, becoming a large land owner. His eldest child was the first white child born in the town. Mr. Ayer finally removed to the Prairie of Big Root in Wisconsin, thinking a less changeable climate would improve his failing health. When the North-western Railway was built, he removed to the flourishing little village of Harvard, Ill., where he became the owner and proprietor of the Harvard Hotel. Mr. Ayer, like his ancestors, is a man of large frame, and of large heart, as well, as very many can testify, especially the soldiers of the North-west who were engaged in putting down the late rebellion. The following letter was taken from the Wisconsin State Journal:

"EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
MADISON, July 12th, 1863.

"E. C. Ayer, Esq., Harvard, Ill.:

"Dear Sir:—I am informed that on several occasions sick and wounded soldiers from Wisconsin have been detained at your place, and that you have at all times treated them with great kindness, furnishing them with food when they needed it, and otherwise administering to their necessities, and that you have done this without pay or expectation of reward, and that you still decline to receive any pay for the many meals furnished this class of persons, or for your services in their behalf.

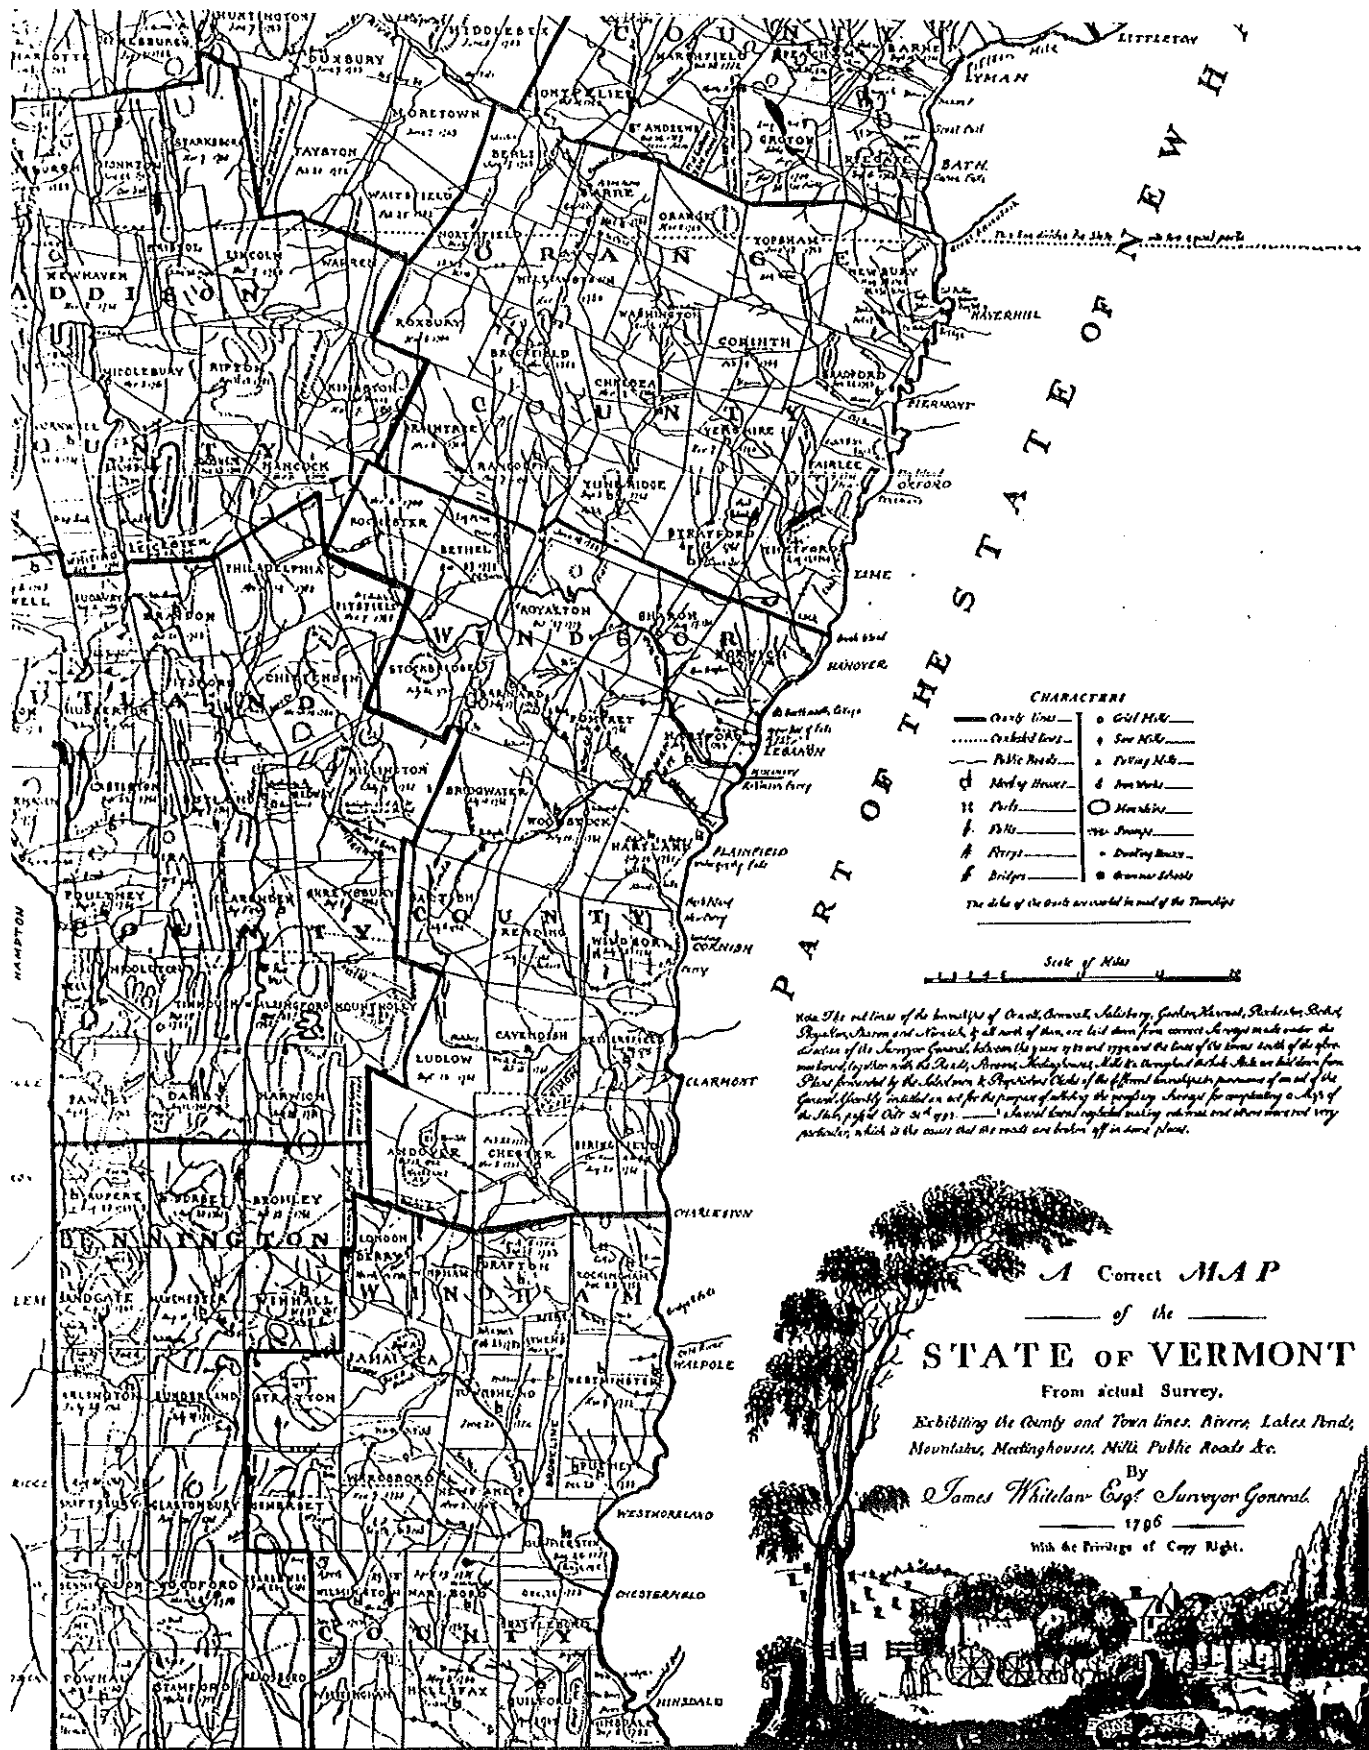

"Few as marked cases of disinterested benevolence and goodness of heart have occurred within my observation, and I could not allow it to pass without assuring you of my appreciation of your services to these sick and wounded heroes. Permit me, sir, in behalf of these noble men whom you have comforted and served, and in behalf of the people of Wisconsin, to tender to you their sincere thanks, and to assure you that your kindness to Wisconsin soldiers will not soon be forgotten.

"Yours Truly,

"JAMES T. LEWIS,

ing, and for several years after that, Mr. Timothy dealt instruction in the rudimentary branches of learning to the few children, numbering from four to eight at a time.

A few years later than this, another school-house was put up by the few settlers in the western part of the township, on the site where now one of the churches at Cherry Corners stands. Miss Harriet Hosford taught there a few terms, and also a Mr. George McQuay. A division of the township in school districts was made on the 10th of October, 1827, with the following boundaries, as given in the original ordinance made by the Township Trustees:

Commencing on the south line of the township, at the southeast corner of Lot No. 156, running from thence north on lot line, to the north corner of Lot 96; from thence west, on the line of the lots, to the West Branch of Black River; from thence northwardly, following said stream, to the outer road running east and west; from thence west, to the west line of the township. All that said part of said Township west and south of that line, shall constitute District No. 2. District No. 3, bounded by District No. 2 on the west, and a line running from the northeast corner of Lot 96, running east to the south, to the southeast corner of Lot 87; from thence north, to the northeast corner of Lot 68; from thence east, to the east line of said township; said district shall include all that part of the Township south and east of the said line not included in District No. 2. District No. 1 to contain all that part of the Township not included in the other two districts. The following are the names of all the householders in District No. 1: Seth Lewis, Michael Loomis, Alvin Loomis, Justus Burr, Carolus Tuttle, John Jason, Jr., Nedebiah Cass, John B. Utter, Charles Lewis, Lomer Griffin, Willis Griffin, Anson Loomis, James Rogers, Amos Kinney, Timothy Burr, Joseph Harris, Thomas Dunbar, Eli Utter, Michael Simcox, Cyrus Chapman, Henry K. Joline, Asher Loomis, Ira Kingsby, Elijah De Witt, Isaaq Catlin, Diodema Birge, John Jason, Moses Parsons, Ralzemond Griffin, Parley F. Griffin, Richard West and Ferrin Chapman. District No. 2—Loammi Holcomb, Reuben Harrington, Daniel Delevan, Timothy Munson, Josiah Perkins, John Munson, Nathaniel Rogers, Leonard Chapman, Samuel R. Munson, David Sausman, Roger Phelps, William Rogers, Perez Rogers, Anson Marsh, Jonathan Fitts and Thomas Holcomb. District No. 3—Thomas Russell, Russell Burr, Webster Holcomb, Jeremiah Hill, Elijah Bishop, Levi Chapman, Warren Johnson, Sceva Chapman, Orange Stoddart, Reuben Chapman, Isaac Rogers, Ebenezer Harris, William Burr, George Burr and Celina Young.

We, the undersigned, Trustees of Harrisville Township, certify the above to be a true description of school districts in said township, as laid off by us, and also a correct list of householders in each district.

Attested:
ANSON LOOMIS, Clerk.

JAMES ROGERS,
JONATHAN FITTS,
Trustees.

An enumeration taken on the 4th of January, 1830, of the householders in the different school districts in the township showed eighty-one householders and one hundred and thirteen children between the ages of four and eighteen. Another subdivision of school districts was made on the 16th of May, 1835, adding two more and making five school districts. Two more districts were created by the township trustees, on the 15th of May, 1837, and on the 9th of October in the same year, Alvin Loomis, Joseph W. Rockwell and O. S. Kinney were appointed Directors of School District No. 1. An enumeration of the youth between the ages of four and twenty, in the several school districts in the township, taken on the 20th of October, 1838, showed 253 males, 253 females and a total of 506. This number had increased in 1840 to a total of 538, and in 1846 to 638. In 1855, the number of youth had decreased to a total of 484, and in 1860 there were only 447 children between the ages of four and twenty years in Harrisville Township. Twenty years later, in the fall of 1880, the total number of school children between the ages of six and twenty-one, in the entire township, including the special school district of Lodi, was 482, being, strange as it may seem, just 156 less than were enumerated in 1845.

By virtue of an act passed by the Ohio Legislature on April 9, 1867, a special school district was created in the winter of 1868, embrac-
