OF THE SONS OF WILLIAM & HANNAH DOOLITTLE
OF NIAGARA COUNTY, NEW YORK

Up to November of 1987 we know of only four sons but a study of the 1820 and 1830 census records of Niagara County, New York, indicates that there were possibly three more. Hopefully, I will be able to demonstrate such as that with the information that is at hand.

Of course there are no children's names recorded in the 1820 and 1830 census. Therefore there can only be an assumption that any number under the age bracket that indicates a child is an offspring of the family of the one who appears as the head of the family; which I believe will hold true in most cases but then it would not always be so.

In the 1820 record of William Doolittle there are two males in the 26 to 45 age category. At the present the only indication we have as to what the age of William might be is the age given in the 1850 census which was 60 years. Thus it appears that he was born in 1790. If those indicated as children in the 1820 and the 1830 census are in fact his children it is certain that he was born before 1790.

Now, let us consider the ages of those sons that we know about. Of two of them we have their birth dates and of the other two we can only estimate their birth years from the census records because to date nothing seems to exist in the way of records or living descendants that have such data. Starting with the eldest we have only the 1850 and 1870 census records of which the variance in them makes them unreliable. For example in 1850 Varnal is 36 years old and in 1870 he is 50 years old. Because the Assistant Marshal, in 1850, was rather accurate with the ages of the two brothers of which we have birth dates for it seems reasonable to assume that he could have had Varnal's age correct. Thus:

1. Varnal Doolittle was born about 1814

Elvira M. Doolittle, who at this time appears to have been their only daughter, was born 22 March 1820. For Wilson Doolittle we have his birth date from descendants, but also have more records from which to estimate his age. In 1850 he is 28 years old, in 1860 he is 36 years old, in 1870 he is 49 years old and in 1880 he is 57 years old.

2. Wilson Doolittle was born 2 June 1821

Wm. Rochester, born on the 4th of April, appears to have been well aware of his age when the census taker came by as all of the census from 1850 thru 1880 give his age correctly, i.e., 1850 - 26 years; 1860 - 36 years; 1870 - 46 years; 1880 - 56 years.

3. William Rochester Doolittle was born 4 April 1824

1. Varnal is also in the 1840 Licking Co., OH, & 1855 Crawford Co., IL, State Census but he is in the 20-30 & 40-50 age brackets which makes an accurate estimate impossible.

The youngest son we have record of died before 1880 and while we do not have his birth date we have the 1850 census that gives his age as 25, the 1860 census gives his age as 33 and the 1870 census has it as 40 years. If his age of 25 was correct in 1850 then he should have been 35 in 1860 and 45 in 1870. If Joseph provided the Assistant Marshals with his age it appears he didn't know what his age was from one census to another. One source states that Joseph was married and lived in Newark before all the Doolittle families of William came to Crawford County, Illinois, sometime in the year 1848.

4. Joseph Doolittle was born about 1825/30

To return to the census record of 1820 (Niagara Co., N.Y.) William Doolittle's family had one free white male of age 10 to 16 and two free white males of an age "under 10".

Varnal, the eldest son we now have knowledge of, if born between 1810 and 1819 would have been one of the two males under the age of 10. Thus there were two more male than we can account for.

A (Male) Doolittle born between 1804 and 1810

A (Male) Doolittle born between 1810 and 1820

In the 1830 census William Doolittle's family had one free white male, age 10 to 15; three free white males, age 5 to 10 and one free white male under the age of 5. The male, age 10 to 15 thus was born between 1815 and 1820. This appears to be his eldest male child in 1830 and if born in 1815 would it seems most likely to have been Varnal.

The three males who are ages 5 to 10 were all born between the years of 1820 and 1825 and it would seem likely that Wilson, born 2 June 1821, Wm. Rochester, born 4 April 1824 and Joseph, born about 1825 would have been these three males who are recorded here. If so then we have one male under 5 years of age left that is unaccounted for. If Joseph was born after 1825 he would have been the one recorded as under 5 years and then one of those 5 to 10 years old is unaccounted for. I believe that is highly possible and if Joseph was born after 1825 it would be thus:

A (Male) Doolittle born between 1820 and 1825 if not one born between 1826 and 1830

CONCLUSIONS:

A (Male) Doolittle, born between 1804 and 1810, as recorded in the 1820 census, does not appear to be in the 1830 census. If he was born in 1804 he would have been about 26 years old in 1830 or if born as late as 1810 would be about 20 years old. Did he die young or did he leave home and go out on his own?

A (Male) Doolittle, born between 1810 and 1820, also does not appear to be in the 1830 census. If he was born in 1810 he would be about 20 years old in 1830 or if born as late as 1820 then he would be about 10 years old. It would seem that if he was 20 or under he would appear in the census of 1830. His absence I believe is due to his early demise.

A (Male) Doolittle, born between 1820 and 1825 if not one born between 1826 and 1830. I believe that Joseph is a contender for the years 1825 - 1830 and if Joseph fits in there then the male born between 1820 and 1825 is unaccounted for and because he is not found with the family as late as 1840 and 50 he also suffered an early demise.

As for time of William's marriage to his wife, Hannah, when the age of their eldest child is considered, his being born between 1804 and 1810 then that date would possibly fall between 1803 and 1809. William may have been born as early as 1778.

Obituary; -- Wm. R. Doolittle was born in Niagara Co. N.Y. April 14th, 1824, died at Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, Dec. 26, 1893. In 1833 he with his parents removed to Licking Co., Illinois. In 1849 he was united in marriage to Miss E.F. Ward who survives him. Ten children; six boys and four girls were the fruit of this union, of whom nine are now living respected citizens of Story and adjacent counties. In 1856 he came to Story Co., and settled in Lafayette township and has since been an honored citizen of this commonwealth.

The writer of this first knew the subject of this sketch in the autumn of 1855 when this locality was almost in a state of nature and the hardships and joys of pioneering such as the present generation know not of.

Wm. R. Doolittle was a man of pronounced opinions. He did not hesitate to call things by their right names, but while he was radical in his views of what he believed to be right, he was a kindly and tender hearted man, loving his family sincerely and his principles. Also, he was besides a generous and kind hearted neighbor, (And God knows we were all poor in the early days) he was always among the first to respond in caring for the sick and destitute, I know whereof I am writing for I have been the recipient of his kindness.

So we leave him: May we all have as good a record for the final summing up, having in mind, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of these little ones ye have done it unto me."

He was laid to rest Dec. 29th 1893, in the Sheffield Cemetery, Rev. L.N. Day conducting the services.
