Obituary—Marie Vanderplas
 Marie Pakkebieter was born to Anna Kroeze and Gerrit Pakkebieter on Nov. 7, 1889, at Prairie View, Kans. She departed from this life at the Phillips County hospital, Phillipsburg, Kans., on Oct. 1, 1960, at the age of 70 years, 10 months and 23 days.

Having confessed her faith at an early age, she remained a faithful member of the Luctor Christian church.

On April 14, 1910, she was united in marriage to Adrian Vanderplas. To this union 10 children were born.

Surviving are her husband, and their ten children: Mr. and Mrs. Milton Haldeman (Christine) of Long Island, Kansas; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Vanderplas of Preston, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Vanderplas of Lakewood, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Watkins (Julia) of Manhattan, Kans.; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Carl Vanderplas of Woodward, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Vanderplas of Bellflower, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Vanderplas of Olathe City, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Roy Vanderplas of Merrill, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Vanderplas of Irtson, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Vanderplas of Stockton, Kans.; 33 grandchildren; 8 great grandchildren; two brothers, Henry Pakkebieter of Prairie View, Kans., and Herman Pakkebieter of Wisconsin; five sisters, Minnie Schempel and Dinna Woodman of Prairie View, Kans.; Mattie and Margaret Pakkebieter of Byron Center, Mich.; and Martha Norton of Long Beach, Calif.

She was graduated from the Luctor elementary school. She taught Sunday school at the age of 16. She attended Normal (teacher) training at Phillipsburg, Kans., and taught two years in country schools, one year at the Jackson school and one year at Prairie Queen school. After this she was married and lived on the farm in Kansas for five years.

The next two years were spent at Luctor. They were partners with her father in a grocery store. The following six years were spent in eastern Nebraska farming. In 1918 all their possessions were lost by fire. Upon returning to Kansas in 1924, the next 10 years were spent farming. They then moved to Luctor, Kans., and spent 16 years in semi-retirement.

Due to her illness they purchased a home in Long Island, Kans. While residing there they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on April 14, 1960.

Due to her falling health she was taken to the Good Samaritan Rest Home in Phillipsburg, Kans. There she spent 1 1/2 months before being admitted to the Phillipsburg hospital, from where she departed.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday, Oct. 5, at 2 o'clock at the Luctor Reformed church with Rev. Alfred Mulder officiating. The funeral was furnished by Stanley Brands, Maurits Van Kesteren, Bob Ralston and Bernard Van Kesteren with Lorraine Thalhimer accompanying.

Casket bearers were John Tlan, W. S. Rika, Garrett, Tom, Wm. Napier, Jack Graveling and Stanley Brands. Flower bearers were Mrs. Olin Vanderplas and Mrs. Roy Hawley, granddaughters of the deceased. Interment was made in the Luctor cemetery.

Safely Home

I am home in heaven, dear ones,
 Oh so happy and so bright!
 There is perfect joy and beauty
 In this everlasting light!
 All the pain and grief is over,
 Every restless tossing passed;
 I am now at peace forever,
 Safely home in heaven at last.
 He called himself the most ignorant,
 In that way so hard to tread;
 And with Jesus not to lean on,
 Could I have one doubt or dread,
 There is work still waiting for you,
 So you must not idly stand;
 Do it now, while He remaineth;
 You shall rest in Jesus' hand.
 When the work is all completed,
 He will gently call you home;
 Oh, the rapture of that meeting,
 Oh, the joy to see you come!

Café of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere gratitude to relatives, neighbors and friends who so kindly remembered us in words, prayers and deeds during their illness and death of our wife, mother and grandmother. May God bless each of you. —Adrian Vanderplas children and grandchildren.

Words will not express our gratitude to the neighbors, friends and relatives who were so kind during our bereavement. CHURCHES

The first church in the county was Methodist Episcopal, located at the present site of Glade. The congregation grew from members of a class that began to meet weekly in a farm home in 1870. The Rev. Allen Eayart was the first minister when the church organized in 1872. By 1883, there were nine Methodist Episcopal congregations in the county; they were located at Marvin, Phillipsburg, Logan, Kirwin, Bow Creek, High Prairie, Prairie View, Sugar Loaf, and Long Island.

Among other early churches were: the United Brethern organized in 1873 and led by Rev. Thomas Curry; the Baptist, organized in 1873 with Elder A. Hitchcock (Elders N.B. Homan, Higgins, and Archer followed); and the Roman Catholics who began meeting together in small groups in 1873. The Congregational Church was organized in 1875 at Kirwin. Early ministers were Rev. G.O. Blake, Rev. Jarrod, and Rev. T.F. Norris. There were five other Congregational Churches by 1883: Bissell Creek, Iowa Union, West Cedar, Plum Creek, and Prairie View.

The Immanuel Lutheran Church (Stuttgart) organized in 1878.

In 1885, the Luctor Christian Reformed Church met with the Rev. Broene presiding over their organization. The Christian Church was organized in Phillipsburg in 1892 with Rev. O.I. Smith being the first pastor. The Zion Lutheran congregation first organized in the Belmont area in 1893 with Rev. H. Gamaehlich, pastor. The Presbyterians were also among the early churches.

By 1906, there were thirty-six churches in the county, representing eighteen denominations.

SCHOOLS

Organized on March 1, 1873, the first grade school district was Bissell School, District No. 1, with William Albaugh as the teacher. The following year there were thirty-seven organized school districts in the county with 292 students of which 143 were girls and 149 boys, according to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction Annual Report. There were sixteen school houses; seven log, eight frame, and one stone. In 1880, there were 104 school districts; in 1890, there were 130; and in 1900, 132 districts.

MILLER

James Miller's mother was Janet Frame (daughter of Robert Frame). She was born in Glascoe, Scotland, on Sept. 9, 1800. At the age of eighteen she came with her parents to Ontario, Canada. In July 1821 she married William Large, who was born in London, England about 1790. Their daughter Julia Ann, youngest of seven children was born at Mono Center, Canada, Sept. 12, 1840. On Aug. 9, 1860, Julia Ann Large married James Miller. They lived at Southampton, Canada, and later at Camilla, Canada.

James Miller was born Feb. 23, 1832, in Storrington, Canada. It is thought his ancestry was either English or German.

James and Julia Miller and their first two children moved to Franklin Co., Mo., about 1854, with Mrs. Miller's brother James Large and her mother Janet Large. In the spring of 1872 they moved to Long Island, Phillips Co., Ks., again with her mother and her brother James. James Large had gone there in 1871 and returned for his mother and sister and her family. They traveled by prairie schooner, a journey of six weeks and arrived the last day of April 1872. Another family, that of Isaac Wiley, went with them. They were the second and third families to settle in that area.

The Millers took a homestead one-half mile west of Long Island. The family home was a sod house. Later, James Miller went to St. Louis, Mo., to work and was killed in a tornado there about 1873-74. Julia Miller remained on the homestead and raised her family there.

A school was organized March 27, 1873. It was built of logs with a sod roof and dirt floor. The children attended school there during the four-month terms. The benches were split logs, and there were no desks.

Julia Miller was appointed Post-mistress at Long Island in 1874 and served two years. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church at Long Island. She married a second time to Edward Conley in 1884, and a daughter Minnie Avis, was born to them.

Julia Miller Conley died March 21, 1890, and was buried in the Long Island Cemetery beside her mother Janet Large, who died in 1889. James Miller was buried at St. Louis.

Children of James and Julia (Large) Miller:

 Jennet Elizabeth was born Jan. 2, 1862, in Canada. She married Charles F. Young at Long Island on May 8, 1879. On March 16, 1910 she died at Long Island.

 William Archibald, born Jan. 20, 1864, in Canada, was married on Sept. 5, 1888, to Gatra Hagerman, at Lincoln, Nebr. He died March 12, 1925 at Savannah, Mo.

 Julia Ann, born Aug. 3, 1868, at Cuba, Mo., married James Hoy, Jr. at Phillipsburg on Oct. 12, 1885. She died Oct. 29, 1899, at Tacoma, Wa.

 James Albert was born Jan. 24, 1871, at Mt. Clare, Mo. He married on Dec. 29, 1898, at Omaha, Ne., to Helen Tune, daughter of John August Tune and his wife Helen. He died Jan. 21, 1960, at Lakewood, Colo.

 Martha Clara, born Oct. 10, 1872, was the first white child born in Long Island Township. She married Alfred Kappen on Feb. 26, 1902, at Alma, Ne. Her death came Nov. 5, 1971, at Phillipsburg.

PILLSBURY

Samuel G. Pillsbury and Caroline Frances Bragdon were married in August 1838 in Chelsea, Massachusetts. He was born March 17, 1837, in Great Falls, New Hampshire. He was the son of Samuel and Sally (Garvin) Pillsbury and the grandson-on-Stephen and Betsy Joy Pillsbury.

His wife was born April 10, 1833, in Shapleigh, Maine. She was the daughter of Ivory and Susan (Garvin) Bragdon and the granddaughter of William and Sally (Coffin) Bragdon. They established their home in Derry, New Hampshire, where twins Edward and Ella were born in 1859. Daughters Eliza and Carrie arrived while the family lived at Derry. A son Clarence, born at Shapleigh, Me., died at the age of three years and was buried on the Bragdon farm. In 1872, the Pillsbury family left their home in Stoneham, Massachusetts, traveling west in a covered wagon. Ella decided to remain in the east with her grandmother Bragdon at Shapleigh.

Samuel's parents, his brother Goodell, his sister Sarah Elizabeth Stearns Tuesday, and other relatives had gone to Kansas earlier and written letters pleading for Samuel to join them. So Frankfort, Marshall County, Kansas was their destination. Other relatives lived at Clyde, Cloud County, Kansas, about fifty miles west of Frankfort.

At Frankfort a tornado struck, killing two of the relatives and leaving Samuel wearing only a shirt neckband after the storm. After such a frightening experience, Samuel moved his family to homestead in Phillips County. They settled three miles northwest of Long Island. Samuel and his wife remained there until their health forced them to make their home with son Edward on a nearby farm.

Caroline united with the First Baptist Church in Shapleigh at age 16. At Stoneham, she joined with others to form the First Baptist Church in that community. In Long Island, she was instrumental in organizing the Baptist Church in that place and remained a constituent member until her death in 1902.

On Dec. 3, 1893, Samuel married Louisa C. Tunnell of Winans, South Dakota. One child, Isabella Emily, was born to them on Jan. 16, 1906, and died three days later.

Samuel passed away on June 12, 1906, and was buried beside his first wife in the Long Island cemetery.

Children of Samuel and Caroline Pillsbury:

Ella Isadore, born May 26, 1893, married Charles M. Abbott. She died Nov. 1, 1939, at Springvale, Maine. Edward Ernest was born May 26, 1899. He married in 1899 in Long Island to Anna E. Levitt, daughter of John Thomas and Anne (Beck) Levitt. He died Oct. 26, 1952, at Long Island. Eliza Bragdon, born March 2, 1861, married Charles Halderman. She died Jan. 3, 1939.

Clarence, born in 1864, died in 1867. Carrie Edith was born April 22, 1866. She married on April 26, 1885, at Phillipsburg to John Hopkins Young, son of Joseph H. and Catherine (Lamb) Young. She died Jan. 8, 1956, at Medford, Oregon.

Submitted by Marcile Young Woodruff.

PILLSBURY

Edward Ernest Pillsbury, son of Samuel and Caroline "Carrie" Pillsbury, was born in New Hampshire and moved west with his parents, living first in Marshall County, Kansas, and then homesteading in Phillips County.

On Dec. 17, 1889, he married Annie Levitt. She born Nov. 24, 1872, in Doncaster, England. Her family, like the Pillsburys, homesteaded in the Long Island area.

The house in which they lived on Edward's land was built prior to his marriage, perhaps in 1826-27. It still stands; son Percy lives there.

Annie died on Oct. 31, 1941. Edward died in 1952. Both are buried at Long Island.

Their children:

Maud, born June 4, 1893, married George Simpson. When she died on July 4, 1936, her children made their home with her parents in Long Island. Vida, born March 21, 1895, married Edw. Soderberg.

Born June 24, 1811, in Ireland, Thomas Hammond Wiley came to America and located in Canada. Agnes Still, who was to become his second wife, was born May 31, 1834, in Aberdeenshire, Scotland, and came to

In 1867 they moved to Crawford Co., Mo., where their last two daughters were born. In 1874 they traveled westward and located on a homestead one mile west of Long Island, Ks. This was the family home for thirty years. The children attended school held in a log school house built in 1873.

Mrs. Wiley united with the Presbyterian Church at age 20, and attended services at the Methodist Church in Long Island. Thomas Wiley died in 1887, and Mrs. Wiley in 1904. At the time of her death, she had 42 grandchildren. Both Thomas and Agnes were buried in the Long Island cemetery.

COLBY

The son of Charles Miles and Amelia Mabel (Thompson) Colby, Daniel Colby was born July 24, 1857, at Middleburg, Ohio. With his parents, two brothers and sister, he moved to Onandaga, Much. There his mother and baby brother died. Later his father remarried and the family moved to Monroe County, Iowa. From there, Daniel went to work with his brother Joel. In the fall of 1876, he, his brother and family came to Long Island, Ks. where their sister, Mary Colby Hoy, was already located.

In 1877, Daniel homesteaded two miles west of Long Island. The land remained under his ownership (and later that of his wife) until their deaths.

On Jan. 31, 1882, Daniel married Martha Jane Cox, at the home of Mary Hoy. They lived on the homestead and raised their family until they moved into Long Island in August, 1916. Daniel was a veterinary. He made his rounds at first by horse and buggy and later by car. He had two half-brothers, Charles and William; Charles was also a veterinary.

Martha Jane Cox Colby was born March 26, 1861, near Leon, Decatur Co., Iowa. Her parents were Martin and Sara (Southernland) Cox. Martha joined the Baptist Church in Iowa, later transferring her membership to Long Island. Daniel united with the Long Island Baptist Church in 1897. Daniel-Colby died Feb. 5, 1931, at Long Island. His widow died June 11, 1946, at Yuma, Colorado. Both were buried at the Long Island Cemetery. Their children:

Retta Belle was born Jan. 21, 1883. On March 21, 1901, she married William Wynn, son of Henry Wynn. She died at Hays, Ks., on March 22, spelling of Striegel is uncertain. Family stories vary, one saying that she was born on shipboard, one that she learned to walk on shipboard, as her parents sailed to the United States. Caroline was better known as "Kate" and died about 1862 while giving birth to her seventh child.

The seven children of Amos M. and Caroline (Kate) Smith are as follows: Adolphus G. was born November 9, 1830, in Mercer County, Penn. He married Mary Elizabeth Budgett on May 2, 1875, in Tama County, Iowa. She was the daughter of Charles and Margaret Cooper Budgett. Adolphus died on March 21, 1879, in Tama County, Iowa.

Maria D. was born April 23, 1852, in Mercer County, Penn. She married William Davis on June 9, 1870. Maria died on February 23, 1914, in Toledo, Iowa.

Amos Larue "Tom" was born on December 10, 1833, at Mercer County, Penn. He married Lucy J. McNeil on September 19, 1878, at Tama, Iowa. Lucy was the daughter of John and Elizabeth Faggart McNeil. "Tom" died in Palco, Kansas, on February 10, 1926.

Mary was the fourth child born to Amos and "Kate". She married Theodore McAnully in 1874. Mary died about 1878.

Percifer "Mose" was born in Pennsylvania in 1860. He married Anna Cuthcart on June 11, 1890, in Idaho City, Indiana. "Mose" died in July of 1930, in San Diego, California. Kate was the sixth child born and was married twice. The first time she married a Maxwell and the second a McQuarry. Kate died on February 24, 1922.

Caroline was the seventh child born and died with her mother at birth. Those who knew Amos M. Smith said, "He was a grand man". He taught school as a young man in Western Pennsylvania, probably Mercer County. Amos and family moved to Tama County, Iowa, and whether his wife Caroline's death occurred there or in Pennsylvania is not certain. Amos lived in Tama County until the six children were grown.

Apparently he made one or more trips to Phillips County, Kansas, before selling his farm land in Iowa and moving to Long Island permanently. One granddaughter said he came in 1875 of 76 and another gives the year of his arrival as 1878.

Amos; his son, Larue (known as Tom); and new bride; unmarried son, Mose; and son-in-law, Will Davis; came by covered wagon out to Kansas. They drove their cattle and horses along the trail and each took a homestead. They were among the earliest settlers in the area. Theodore McAnully, another son-in-law, may have come at the same time or soon after. His homestead was next to that of Amos. A few years later Amos helped bring his widowed daughter-in-law, Mary Elizabeth, and her two small daughters to take a claim nearby. His experience with floods in Iowa prompted Amos to choose high ground in Kansas, when low land was still available.

Amos was described by neighbors as a wonderful Christian who did much for the community. He helped generously whenever there was need. He organized the first Sunday School and Prayer Meeting in a little one-room dug-out that was used as a school house.

On June 13, 1898, he died at the home of his son, Tom, near Long Island and is buried in the Vereman Cemetery near Long Island. Several descendants remained in the area: Nellie Clason and Carrie Lucas, daughters of Mary Elizabeth Smith Johnson; and some of their families. Some of the children of Maria Davis and Tom Smith and his family lived near Long Island until 1901.

Levi Halderman was born Feb. 19, 1825, in Lancaster, Ohio. He was the son of Eliza Williamson and her husband George William Halderman, who came with his brothers from Holland.

On Nov. 25, 1852, in Fairfield Co., Ohio, Levi married Marthaene Littlefield. She was born in 1832, in Syracuse, N. Y., the daughter of William Littlefield (born 1801, Vermont) and his wife Amelia Dixon (born 1806, N. Y.), and the granddaughter of a Dr. Littlefield. She moved with her family to Lancaster, Ohio, in 1834.

Levi and Marthaene Halderman lived in Fairfield County for many years and there seven children were born. Later, accompanied by her parents, they moved to Lisbon, Linn Co., Iowa, about 1865-69. They lived at Marshalltown, Iowa, for a time and William Littlefield is buried there.

The family, including Mrs. Littlefield, moved to Long Island, Ks., in 1879. Levi homesteaded land, farmed, did carpenter work, and was an inventor. He and his wife were members of the Methodist Church at Long Island. Of their children who lived to adulthood, Fides moved to West Virginia, and Dayton to Canada; the others homesteaded and remained in the Long Island area to raise their families. Later, Charles and family and Aida and family moved to California; and many years later, Augustus and his wife also went there.

Grandmother Amelia Littlefield died June 8, 1898, and was buried at the Long Island cemetery, Marthaene Halderman died Nov. 25, 1897, and Levi died July 2, 1907. Both are buried at Long Island. Numerous descendants remain in the county and nearby.

HALDERMAN

Frank McClelland (Mac) Halderman was born to Levi Halderman and Marthaene Littlefield April 13, 1862. He died of pneumonia in his farm home near Long Island, Kansas on April 20, 1936, at age 74. He was buried in the Long Island cemetery.

Mac's paternal grandparents were George William and Eliza (Williamson) Halderman. Mac's dad, Levi, was responsible for changing the spelling of the surname from Halderman to Halderman, which has remained the same for each succeeding generation. Mac's maternal grandparents were William and Amelia (Dixon) Littlefield.

In 1835 or 1837, when Mac was either 3 or 5 years old, his parents and their 8 or 9 children, (exact number unknown), moved from Lancaster, Ohio, Fairfield County, to Lisbon (Linn County), Iowa. He received his grade school education here. They were in the farming profession and lived here until 1879 when they made the journey to Phillips County, Kansas. Mac's brother, Charles, had come to the Long Island community earlier with three friends, (the "Young" brothers), and each had applied for a homestead northwest of Long Island. A depression had followed the Civil War, and the United States Government had passed the Homestead Act to encourage the movement westward into new territory. After learning of the opportunities available here, from his son Charles, Levi soon made the decision to move. At the age of 17, Mac accompanied his parents, 5 brothers, and 2 sisters to the area northwest of Long Island, Levi homesteaded NE 1/4, Section 10, Long Island Township, Phillips County. Their first home was a sod house.

Mac attended school for one year in the Dry Ridge Country School, District No. 119, which was 1 mile west of his parent's home. He later became acquainted with Miss Iowa H. Chapman who taught in this district, and they were married on May 19, 1897 in her parent's home in Freedom Township, Phillips County, Kansas.

Mac applied for a homestead at the age of 17, shortly after his arrival near Long Island in 1879. He wasn't old enough to legally transact business, so his older sister had the land registered in her name to hold it for him. He received the patent for N 1/2 - NE 1/4, Section 15, Long Island Township, on August 15, 1890 from the United States Government through the Kirwin Land Office, Kirwin, Kansas.

Mac and Iowa established their home on his homestead after their marriage and their first home was a 2-room frame house. A large kitchen was added later. All of their four children were born here.

Mac was a farmer and stockman. The family attended church in the Long Island Methodist Church until they began having Sunday School and church services in the Dry Ridge School house and they attended these services. Mac was a member of the Methodist Church in Long Island. Mac's wife, Iowa Henrietta Chapman (named for the state where she was born), was born to Milton William and Stella A. (West) Chapman at West Union, Iowa on Sept. 20, 1864. She died in the farm home of her son, Ray, northeast of Almenna, Ks. on Aug. 30, 1946. She is buried in the Long Island cemetery.

Iowa came with her parents, 1 brother, and 1 sister to Freedom Township, Phillips County, Ks. at the age of 9, in July 1873. They traveled in a covered wagon which was their home here while her father, a wounded Civil War Veteran, felled cottonwood logs to build their first home. Iowa and her brother and two sisters (another born here), were educated in the Iowa Union Country School, District No. 23, which her dad helped organize in 1874. Iowa Union derived its name from so many settlers who came from Chickasaw County, Iowa. Iowa taught school for 13 terms (3 months in length) before her marriage. It is known that she taught in Banner District, Dayton Township, and in Dry Ridge District No. 119, Long Island Township, where she met her husband, Mac Halderman. They were married and became the parents of five children.

Iowa was a member of the United Brethren Church in Iowa, where she retained her membership. Their children: All of the children were born in Long Island, Kansas.

Ernest, Levi was born April 8, 1890 and died Aug. 27, 1972 at Beloit, Kansas. On Dec. 15, 1920, he married Minnie Mae Hasenyaeger in Phillipsburg. She was the daughter of George and Anna Hasenyaeger of Long Island, Kansas. Ernest farmed northwest of Long Island, and also did custom threshing for many years.

Vernie Halite was born Jan. 17, 1892. On June 1, 1915 she married Frank Ward in Alma, Nebraska. He was the son of Elias Perry and Alta C. Ward of Wilsonville, Nebraska. Vernie was a housewife and mother. Ray Franklin was born Jan. 21, 1896. He never was married. He farmed northwest of Long Island and northeast of Almenna, Kansas.

Milton Robert was born Nov. 6, 1900 and died May 13, 1962 at Long Island. On Aug. 16, 1950 he married Christine Maitee Vanderplas in Phillipsburg. She was the daughter of Adrian and Marie Vanderplas of Prairie View, Ks. Christine died May 30, 1964. Both are buried at Long Island, Kansas. Milton farmed northeast of Long Island.

ROSS

Albert Edward Ross, the fourth child of William Nelson Ross II and Matilda (Stockwell) Ross, was born Nov. 4, 1861 in Kincardine, Ontario, Canada. He died Aug. 18, 1931, at his farm home in Long Island, Kansas and was buried in the Long Island cemetery.

Albert's father is believed to have come from Scotland to Canada. He lost one arm in a threshing machine accident when he was a young man and wore an artificial arm with a hook on it for the rest of his life. His mother, Matilda, spoke with an English accent but her birthplace is unknown. They were in the farming profession. In 1871, when Albert was 10 years old, they left Ontario. The family consisting of the parents and eight children, ranging in ages from two to sixteen, traveled in a covered wagon. Their destination was Tama County in Eastern Iowa, but after hearing of homestead land available in Kansas, they journeyed to Long Island, Phillips County, Kansas. They settled 5 miles west of Long Island. They became the parents of 4 more children, but the 2nd and 3rd boys, both died one winter during a flu epidemic. They are buried in Veneman cemetery, one mile away. A daughter also died at age 14, who was buried in Truer, Iowa.

Albert and his brother bought the homestead rights from someone who had previously made the application for homestead rights on this land for NE 1/4, Section 19, Long Island Township, Phillips County, Ks., which was recorded on Aug. 23, 1893. Albert became the sole owner on Dec. 23, 1925. He settled in Long Island township in 1879. On April 23, 1889, Albert married Clara Alida Farman in Hastings, Nebraska. She was born Jan. 21, 1867 in the Village of Falarad, near Kungsbacka, Sweden. She died Feb. 5, 1896 in the hospital in Oxford, Neob, and was buried in the Long Island cemetery. Clara was the daughter of Peter Anthon and Anna Kristina Petersson, the third of their 10 children. Her father was a farmer. He received her grade school education in Sweden. She was baptized into the Lutheran Faith and confirmed in Fjaros Lutheran Church in 1878.

Clara left her birthplace June 18, 1887, at the age of 20, and came by ship to the United States. Her two older brothers had come earlier to the United States, the eldest settled in Pennsylvania and the other one near Hastings, Nebraska. Her violin was one of the possessions which she brought to America and she entertained the passengers on the ship with her violin music. She arrived in Hastings the same year to join her brother, Charles. He had previously changed his name of Petersson to "Farman", as there were too many Peterssons in the Axel Swedish Settlement, where he lived, so she also changed her name to Farman.

A family in Hastings hired Clara to work in their home where she was employed for two years. They owned a ranch near there and had hired Albert Ross' oldest sister, husband and family to manage it. On one of Albert's visits, his sister introduced him to her friend, Clara Farman. This acquaintance led to their marriage in 1889.

Albert and Clara raised a family of 5 sons and 1 daughter. All of them enjoyed music and most of them played string instruments, organ, and piano, which gave them many hours of enjoyment. Albert and Clara both played the violin.

Their children attended the Bethel one-room country school, District 11, where they received their grade school educations and Albert served on the school board. Their daughter, Viola, attended Norton High School for 2 years, took Norman Training, then taught school for a few years before her marriage. Un-denominational Church Services were held in Bethel, which the family attended.

COLBY

Charles Ira Colby, the son of Charles and Mary (Miles) Colby, was born near Hoxie, Kansas, October 8, 1876. In 1890, he and his family came to Phillips County to be near his half brothers, Dan and Joel Colby, and a half sister, Mary Hoy. Charles's father died soon after they arrived and his mother took 160 acres of school land in Long Island township and proved up on it.

On November 26, 1896, Charles Ira Colby and Georgianna Pierce were married at the Colby home in Long Island, Kansas. She was born in Missouri, April 5, 1876, the daughter of David Pierce, and came to Phillips County from Colorado, with an uncle in a covered wagon, to care for her sister.

Charles Colby loved animals and soon became the neighborhood veterinarian. He took the state board examination in Topeka to practice veterinarian medicine.

The family lived in a sod house. Each spring, it was whitewashed and the straw ticks they slept on were emptied and refilled when the thrashing was done. They had a steam powered threshing machine and other steam powered machinery. Every year, some of the flour was taken to a mill in Stamford, Nebraska to be ground into flour.

When the sod house fell in, they moved another house in on rollers drawn by horses. Later, he purchased a cement block machine and built a house of blocks on a hill.

Many times, when his crops were poor, Charles Colby rode his bicycle to other farms and shucked corn. Mrs. Colby helped in the fields, drilling wheat with a one horse drill and cared for the livestock.

When the children were old enough to attend high school, their father traded their home for land closer to Long Island, so they could go to school. The children grew up to become school teachers, a nurse, a veterinarian, and a beauty operator. Mr. and Mrs. Colby died at Long Island and are buried in the Long Island cemetery.

Long Island Was Really An Island In Pioneer Days

By Mariha Kappen

In the northwest corner of Phillips county lies a beautiful and productive valley 8 miles long and surrounded by Prairie Dog Creek on the south and Elk Creek on the north. In about the center of this valley lies the town of Long Island. It is claimed the Indians named this island and it was well named as it was an island in 1872 and for many many years after that date.

W. T. Weed and son, E. M. Weed and J. N. Curl came in 1872, filed their claims and built their log houses. E. M. Weed's house was large enough, so he put in a little grocery store, the first store in Long Island, or the original "old town". Alvin Fox and Mr. Pendleton each had a little grocery store on their farms about a mile and a half west of town.

By the spring of 1873 many families had come, staked their claims, and worked diligently and succeeded in getting the barren lands ready for grains to be planted, plowing with ox and horse teams. Wonderful crops were raised that year. A number of the early settlers took their claims on the uplands. They also had good crops.

But in 1874 it was different. The grasshoppers came and ate all the crops. Very disappointing after all that hard work. Some went back east. However those who stayed were well repaid as the crops were abundant in 1875. The people were very happy, contented and glad they stayed in this nice little place in Kansas.

In 1876 John Bertwell and A. H. Mischke built a saw and grist mill about a half mile from the town on the Prairie Dog. Mr. Mischke hauled the machinery from Kearney, Nebr., sawed the logs and built the frame part of the mill, but the finishing part was brought from Kearney. Mr. Mauker was mill right and James Large carpenter. Mr. Zellmer, sr., workman and others who could, worked there.

As soon as the lumber was ready Mr. E. M. Weed built a frame store building and I. N. Curl the first hotel in the "Old Town." Later houses were built as needed. The original town was laid out in 1876.

In 1879, P. J. Carl and Mr. Young located in our town. Mr. Carl built a general merchandise and grocery store of native lumber and Mr. Young put in a drug store in the same building.

W. B. Dimmick put in an implement building and Wm. Kaley, a blacksmith shop and home.

store and the other, a much larger one was used as a general merchandise and grocery store. Later this store was partitioned in order to accommodate two stores and a hardware was put in the north half of the building. These two buildings are still standing.

At the present time P. J. Carl's store is the only building in town that was moved from the old town in 1885.

Today there are no businesses in Long Island that were operating in the 1880's except the Commercial State Bank which is still in the hands of the Culbertson family.

Items About Long Island And Vicinity

Churches

After the log school house was finished in 1873, there was a community Sunday school organized with J. O. Dean, as superintendent.

At that time there were ministers traveling through. They were invited to stay overnight and would hold services in the school house in the evening.

A few years later Rev. Bracken came over from Phillipsburg, about every two weeks and held services Sunday mornings. He continued this until the school house was destroyed by fire in 1883.

After the school house burned people met in the homes for prayer meetings and Bible study. These meetings were held until a frame school house was completed in 1884. School was held in this frame building until the first about a year and then was consolidated with the Phillips County Democrat, which was established March 27, 1886, by H. S. Montgomery. E. M. Weed purchased the plant Nov. 6, 1889, and changed the name to the Phillips County Inter-Ocean, and afterwards to the Long Island Leader.

In 1905 the plant was purchased by Matteson and Jones who added the material of the Phillipsburg Herald and called the paper the "New Leaf".

In 1909 Dewitt Yantiss succeeded Matteson and Jones, as publisher, until he was called to service in 1918.

All the papers are defunct.

Baptist Church

By Marie Durnil

Sept. 13, 1884, a Baptist church was organized. Some of the members at that time were; Charles Tracy, C. M. Cole, Margaret Phipps, Jane E. Tracy, Carrie F. Pillsbury, Charlotte Weed, and Helen M. Pickle.

The membership grew so rapidly in a few years, they decided they needed a church and on Aug. 31, 1897, the corner stone of the First Baptist church was laid with dedication ceremonies. In a short time the church was built and ready for occupancy. At the present time no church services are held there, but they have Sunday school each Sunday.

Mrs. Carrie F. Pillsbury named this church the First Baptist church of Long Island, Kans.

HISTORY OF LONG ISLAND

Mr. Carl and Young each built a home about 1 1-2 blocks from the store building and north of it.

Later the Dimmick building was used as a town hall for school entertainments and other social gatherings. The first Christmas gathering was held in one of the upstairs rooms of the Cur hotel. Santa was there and distributed candy to every one in the audience. The candy was furnished by Mr. Weed. We look back now and wonder how every one could be so happy, especially the children, but a little meant so much those days.

In 1885 the old town was moved to its present location, the same year the B. and M. Railroad was completed (Aug. 18, 1885).

The Lincoln Land Co., purchased the land from L. K. Carnahan and E. M. Weed, and plotted the present townsite. Some of the buildings moved from the old town site were P. J. Carl merchandise and grocery; E. M. Weed building, J. N. Curl, Leader, and others. Soon new buildings were built, some were of brick, (S. P. Lindley, Drugs, Romick Bros., General Merchandise and Grocery were of brick). The rest were frame as follows: J. M. Figley, Furniture and Photo Gallery; Dr. A. Bennie, N. F. Johnson, Recreation Parlor; A. Patnoe, Blacksmith; Joseph Skelton, Meat Market; L. I. Whitcomb, Hardware; Long Island Bank; and Peoples Bank; and Wm. Rhoades, Blacksmith. In 1886 Mr. Giffen Culbertson purchased the above named banks, consolidated them and gave the new bank the name of Long Island Commercial State Bank.

Our little town began to boom. Soon we had a real town: more homes were built and business buildings erected as follows: C. A. Barnard, Real Estate, M. W. Watson, postmaster; Harry Switzer, lumber yard; Walcott and Lee, drugs; Spurlock and Cheek, Hardware; Shaffer and Marx, Clothing; A. C. Hays, Real Estate; J. O. Atkins, Livery Barn; Commercial Hotel, Barney Bump, proprietor; John Skelton and S. Kirwin in the spring of 1872 by Sedman, Harness; Boyle, Barber Shop; Hattie Vasburg, Millinery; Emma Vaughn, Millinery; Cora Carl and Fannie Whittaker, had a millinery shop in the basement of the Phil Romick home.

Business prospered and the town grew rapidly. Then on Feb. 1, 1889, there was a disastrous fire which burned nearly all of the buildings in the south block on the west side of the street.

On Dec. 19, 1889, the J. N. Curl building located on the east side of the street, formerly a printing office, burned. In 1895, James Hay's livery barn, located on the northeast corner of the south block was burned. Aside from the feed, harness, etc., several horses were lost in that fire. In 1897 the Ezra Reed hardware and other buildings located on the north part of the west block burned. In 1909, fire destroyed the center of the west block as far south as a bank building and P. J. Carl's store. In 1912, the Cozad buildings, located on the east side of the street were burned.

However after all these fires the town was rebuilt—after the 1909 fire. Mr. and Mrs. Giffen Culbertson built two brick buildings, one was used as a drug

Sod House First Long Island School

The first school house in the Long Island district was located about one-half mile west of the present school building, and school district number 12 was organized March 27, 1873. The school house had a sod roof and dirt floor. There were no desks and split logs were used for seats. School was held for about four months and the curriculum consisted chiefly of the three R's and spelling.

In 1883, the district built a one-room frame building across the street north of the present school building. Ten years later, a two-story brick building with four rooms was built. It was located in the same block where the present school building stands. High school courses were offered after the building was completed.

In the year 1905, there were 21 students in high school, 133 in the grades and school was conducted for an eight month term. Oliver O. Young drew $60 per month as principal.

In 1917-18, a brick building was constructed and a full four-year course was offered in high school.

The Long Island district is consolidated and in 1950 had a total valuation of $1,658,234 and was carrying a mill levy of 15.82. The school system employs 10 teachers, 4 in the grades and 6 in the high school. The grade school is rated B with an enrollment of 88 and the high school is also B with an enrollment of 48.

Oliver O. Young served as principal from 1905 to 1907. Other principals since that time have been: 1907-08, E. E. Colyer; 1909-10, O. E. Bechtoldt; 1911-12, Ola Thomas; 1912-17, George E. The Long Island Leader office was destroyed by fire December 19, 1889.

On Saturday night, October 27, 1888, Kirwin came near being wiped off the map by fire, the entire southeast part of the square being burned.

Arcade township was swept by fire April 19, 1883.

A tornado struck Phillips county on June 22, 1882, doing considerable damage.

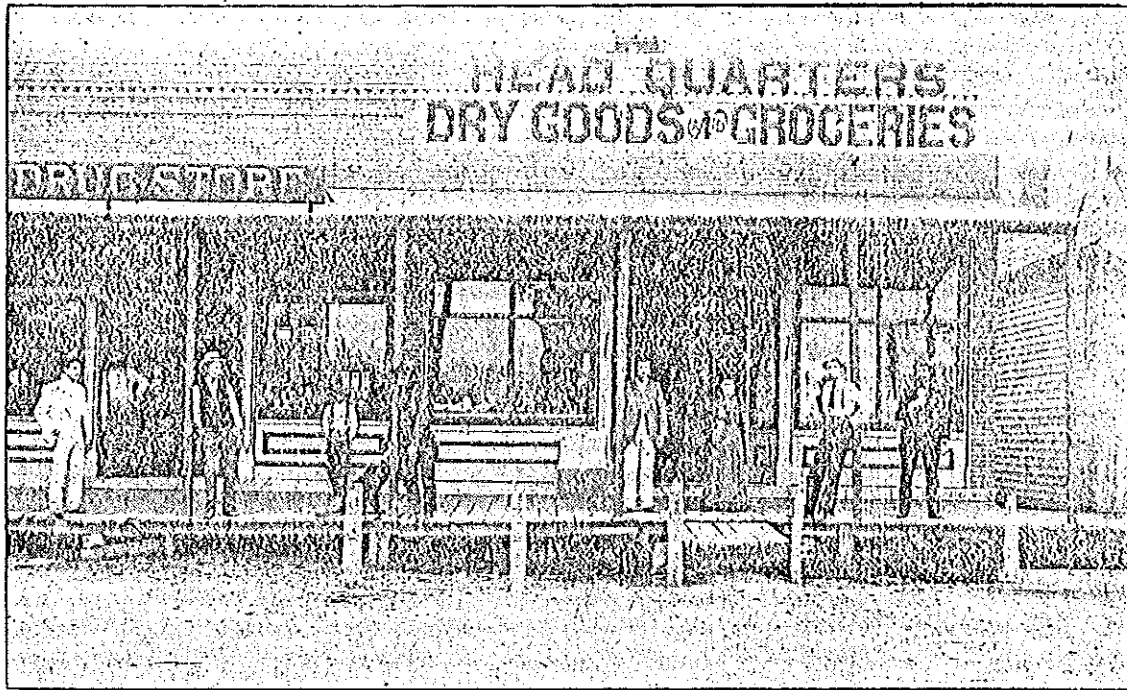

The most destructive cyclone in the history of the county struck June 28, 1905. Six persons lost their lives, including Daniel Weaver, E. C. Lanman, Mrs. John Alexander, Mrs. R. A. Alexander and her two children.
