We share so many wonderful and precious memories of her life. Even the last weeks of her life, she was so loving and giving to her children and everyone who entered her room. On one very special day God gave us with her, she was beaming with love and had everyone laughing with her cute remarks. She never complained about the way she felt and always responded "okay" when asked how she felt. Her happiest times were when her children came home and she would cook for them. When you visited her home you were always greeted with a smile, a cup of coffee and dessert. Her smile and sweet spirit will live in the heart of her children as well as everyone who knew her. We know she is in heaven with Jesus, smiling down and waiting until we can all be together again. To meet the changing needs of the community, they changed their wares from groceries to auto parts in 1976. Friend, Reason 1820 - 30 Jul 1903

Reason Friend, one of Douglas County's oldest and most respected citizens departed this life on Thursday July 30, 1903. He was 83 years of age and had spent his entire life in southern Missouri. He was born in 1820 near the mouth of Pawn Fork in Ozark County. He was married in 1851 to Miss Elizabeth McCarty and lived happily with his wife until a few years ago when she was called to rest. Twelve children were born to them; only three of whom survive them. He spent three years of his life in the service of his state being a member of the State Militia during the war of the rebellion. He died at the home of his daughter 7 miles west of Galloway in Greene County. He had lived for the past several years with his son Isaac Friend near Pansy on Little Beaver Creek. Thirty minutes before his death he was rational and apparently hearty as he had been for a long time but the sand of life had worn away and he succumbed to death and has gone to meet Him who gives rest to the weary. He was loved and honored by all who knew him. His remains were laid to rest in the family burying ground at Linden. Peace to his memory...

The year of their marriage may be wrong. I believe they were married before 1850. And I think that at the time of his death there were four children still alive not three.

Prominent Resident Crash Victim: Manslaughter Charged are Filed.

A well known and highly respected Ozark resident, Godfrey N. Gamel, 55, was killed instantly last Thursday night in a three-vehicle collision at the junction of Hwy 65 and Rt. m in the south part of Springfield. Gamel's death occurred when a Bacon Tire Company truck, driven by James A. Kays, 28, of Republic, turned left into the southbound lane of Hwy 65 and struck Gamel's late model pickup truck broadside. According to Greene County Coroner, Ralph Thieme, Gamel died of massive head and chest injuries. The tire company truck drove the Gamel pickup into the ditch at the southwest corner of the intersection, then smashed head-on into a Whelchel Funeral Home ambulance from Branson, driven by Henry Lonzo Dean, 22, of Hollister. Dean was trapped in the wreckage of the two vehicles and after he was freed by Springfield fireman with cutting tools, he was taken to St. John's Hospital by Safety Ambulance where he was reported in critical condition Wednesday. The truck driver, Kays, was arrested on drunkenness complaint after registering .21 percent alcohol a Breathalyzer test given at Springfield police headquarters short after the tragedy. Kays was not seriously injured. A Green County coroner's inquest Monday afternoon found Kays responsible for the crash, and he is free on $5,000 bond following arraignment on a vehicular manslaughter charge. A preliminary hearing is set for 10:30 a.m. May 12 before Greene County Magistrate Louren G. Davidson. Godfrey Gamel moved to Ozark in 1950 to open the Ben Franklin Store on the east side of the square. He had made a careful survey of numerous Ozark communities before selecting Ozark as the location for his new store and as the place of residence for his family. He entered immediately into the religious and civic life of the community. Noted for his cheerful willingness to accept any task in his church, in his civic club or in any worthwhile endeavor, he soon formed many friendships throughout the county. A most faithful member of the Ozark Christian Church, he served several terms on the church board as both elder and deacon, was Sunday School superintendent for many years and was active in the musical program of the church. On occasion, he served neighboring community churches as lay speaker. His enthusiasm carried over into the community, and he was a member of the Ozark Lions Club and the Ozark Booster Club. He serves two terms as director of the Ozark Chamber of Commerce and many times acted as master of ceremonies for Christmas programs and other chamber-sponsored events of that kind. The Ozark community responded well to Godfrey Gamel's outgoing personality and his business was successful. In 1965, he sold the business to the present ownership and enter into semi-retirement. However, before long, he accepted a position in the men's department of Sears, Roebuck and Company in Springfield where he was employed at the time of his death. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. at the Harris Funeral Home in Ozark with one of the largest gatherings ever to attend a funeral in Ozark in attendance. The Rev. Conrad Kitchell, pastor of the Ozark Christian Church officiated. Burial was in Selmore Cemetery. Survivors include his wife, Opal; one son, Larry Gamel, of Sparta; three daughters, Carolyn of Forsyth, Linda of the home and Kay of Columbia. The family requested that memorial contributions be made to the Ozark Christian Church.

The following is an original poem by Mr. Gamel which was printed on the remembrance folder handed out at his funeral services. The family requested that it be printed here:

When Death Comes

When life on earth for me is o'er and my body laid to rest,
I hope those round can say these words: "Our friend has done his best."
No higher tribute can be paid than the token "He's my friend
He's proved himself with kindly deeds."
'Tis the way life should end.
Too many last respects are vain words spoken, meaning lost,
No heartfelt sympathy at all, just a duty and the cost.
Yet, when death's curtain 'round me fall,
I want not wealth or fame.
I want to live in man's good will and with an honest name.
- GODFREY GAMEL

Garland, Alice Erma (Hall) Bowen Pearce 27 Apr 1916 - 4 Mar 2004 SN-L 5 Mar 2004

Alice Erma (Hall) Garland, 87, died at 2:22 a.m. Thursday, March 4, 2004, in St. John's Regional Health Center, Springfield. She was preceded in death by her parents and a brother, James Mervin Hall. She was married three times, first to Edward L. Bowen, then Lawrence W. "Bip" Pearce, and finally to Everett Garland, all of whom have preceded her in death. She is survived by her son, James F. Bowen and his wife, Betty L., and their three daughters, Sherry Wortham and Vicky Hogue, all of Heath, Texas, and Terri Bowen of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. There are five great-grandchildren, all of Heath, Texas: Cody Merritt, Chad Merritt, Terra Thomas, Travis Thomas and Jacob Hogue. She was born on her Grandfather Hall's homestead on the Christian/Stone County line on April 27, 1916, the daughter of James Allen and Mabel Shertz (Sherd) Hall. Her family later moved to Brown Springs, where they operated a general store and she attended school, taught by her mother. When she was twelve, her father was elected county clerk and they moved to Galena, where she graduated salutatorian of her high school class, after her first marriage. She and her first husband started a general store in Clever in the middle of the Depression. Both the store and marriage failed. Her parents joined her in the store after which she married Bip, and moved to the farm. It didn't take her long to add running water to the house, including an inside bathroom, and to switch the wood burning cook stove for kerosene. In 1946, they sold the store and with her share of the proceeds, she purchased the "Joe Pearce" place. She then began a career of various ventures. She was a farmer's wife, raising chickens, cooking for threshing crews, etc. She sold women's fine fashions at Heers, Billie's Dress Shop, and Joseph and Sons. She ran unsuccessfully for Christian County public office. She was active in the local and state Parent Teachers Association. She obtained a real estate license and tried selling real estate. She and her brother started another general store in Clever. She belonged to the Eastern Star and was a member of Clever United Methodist Church from the cradle to the grave. She and Bip traded his family farm around 1965 to Damon Hedgpeth in exchange for his building their house on ZZ. After caring for Bip during his fight with terminal cancer, her mother moved in with her. She cared for her in the Pearce home during her mother's extended bedfast illness and while working in Springfield, thereby continuing the Hall tradition of taking care of their own. After her mother's death, she met and married "Gabby," her third husband, and she finally got to enjoy "retirement." She was notorious for getting lost while traveling, even in Springfield, where she and Bip never figured out how to get to his brother's house on Kickapoo from National in one try. Erma always loved to play cards, first pinochle with her father. She later became addicted to bridge. No friend or event superseded a bridge game. She felt the same way about pool until she physically could not play. She will be disappointed in heaven if there is no bridge or pool. Erma was like Will Rogers in not finding anyone she didn't like; it is doubtful, however, he treated everyone with the same benevolence she extended to those she touched. Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday, March 7, 2004, in Clever United Methodist Church, with Rev. Dennis Bowling officiating under the direction of Meadors Funeral Home, Clever. Burial will follow in Mt. Carmel Cemetery, Clever. Visitation will be 6 to 8 p.m. Saturday in the funeral home. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to the Clever United Methodist Church Building Fund or the Mt. Carmel Cemetery Association.

Basket Dinner Honors Mrs. Frances Garrison on Her 100 th Birthday Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gann entertained Sunday, September 17, with a basket birthday dinner honoring Mrs. Frances Garrison, who celebrated her one hundredth birthday Monday, September 18. Places were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Amos Johnson, Ellis Jennings, Mr. and Mrs. Oren Fowler, Mrs. S.F. Shipman, Mrs. Lois Lee of Springfield, Ben Cline and sons, Frankie Lee and Joe Cline, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Campbell, Donald Ray Williams of Sparta, Leroy and Richard Morrisett of Ozark, Mrs. Gussie Eldridge, Frank and Jimmie Shipman, Mary, Sharon Kay and Rosa Shipman, the honoree, and the host and hostess and their son, Bobby. Afternoon callers were Mr. and Mrs. Clell Farwell and daughter of Sparta. Mrs. Garrison makes her home with Mr. and Mrs. Gann. Mrs. Garrison recalled her life story, and Jim Anderson helped piece her story together with facts told him by his father, the late Hiram Anderson, Sr. Mrs. Garrison was born Frances Bledsoe, the daughter of Newt and Frankie Bounds Bledsoe, on a farm in Scott County, Virginia, on September 18, 1850. The farm the family moved on belonged to the father of Hiram Anderson, Sr. Jim Anderson said that his father was born in 1847, and that the latter had told him that he and Frances Bledsoe attended the same school and that he was three years older than she. At the close of the Civil War, Newt Bledsoe and his wife decided to move to Missouri. He made a 4-wheel cart, even making the wheels, hewing spokes and hubs from native timber and binding the wheels with steel tires. In the late fall they loaded their housekeeping things in the cart, hitched a big red ox to the cart, and started for Missouri. Members of the family walked and took turns riding, one at a time, on the cart. After several weeks they reached Jack Burg, Tennessee. As winter was coming on they sold the ox cart and took a train to Memphis, which was the end of the railroad line. There was not bridge at Memphis and they went to St. Louis where they again took a train and went to Lebanon, which at the time was the end of that line. A Mr. Chatman brought them on to Springfield, at that time only a few scattered houses. At Springfield they put their clothes and bed rolls into sacks. Each member of the family carried his portion according to size, and they walked the twenty odd miles to the Elm Grove settlement just north of Kenton post office which is now Lindenlure in Christian County. The Bledsoes lived here until about Easter then moved to Greene County. Three or four years later Mrs. Bledsoe died after a lingering illness which had confined her to bed for over a year. Frances, eldest of the five children, two girls and three boys, took over housekeeping for her father until his death several years later. Then she moved with her grandfather, Mr. Bounds, to Christian County, where she met and married John (Heg) Garrison on July 10, 1876. She has lived in this county most of the 74 years since. Four of her twelve children are living. She had 29 grandchildren, 64 great-grandchildren, and eight great-great-grandchildren. One of her grandsons was John S. Taylor, former Ozark banker.

Sheridan Garrison was founder and Chairman Emeritus of American Freightways, now FedEx Freight. The son of Ben F. and Pauline Garrison, Sheridan Garrison graduated with honors from Harrison High School at the age of 16 in 1951. He earned a B. S. degree in business administration from the University of Arkansas. Following college graduation, Sheridan helped with his family's newly founded business, Garrison Motor Freight. He served as director of operations from 1955 until 1966, when he was named president, a role he held at the time the company was sold in 1979. In 1982, Sheridan and a small group of friends and industry veterans began a new venture - Arkansas Freightways. In 1993, the company changed its name to American Freightways to reflect its expanded service throughout much of the United States. In 2001, FedEx Corporation purchased American Freightways, and in 2002, American Freightways and Viking Freight were combined to form FedEx Freight. Today, FedEx Freight is the second largest less-than-truckload carrier in the nation, with approximately 22,000 employees. Sheridan's leadership was widely recognized in the business community. He was active in local and state chambers of commerce, the Arkansas Trucking Association, Arkansas Motor Carriers Association and Nasstrac, a national transportation trade association. Sheridan received numerous awards during his career, including being inducted into the Arkansas Business Hall of Fame in 2002. In addition to serving as a mentor and friend to the many employees of FedEx Freight, Sheridan was active in civic organizations, including the United Way and Rotary. He believed in the value of education and recently contributed an endowed Chair at the University of Arkansas. He also was a leader in fund raising efforts to build a new complex at Harrison High School as well as donating land for the new football stadium to be built. In addition, he was a major donor to the Arkansas State Boys Ranch. He was a member of the First Christian Church and the Open Door Sunday School class. By: J.E. Dunlap, Jr., Publisher Emeritus 05/31/2004

Sheridan Garrison had so many friends in this area, across Arkansas and the nation, that his sudden death, "the word 'stunned' took on new meaning" as the eulogy by his close friend and associate, Ken Reeves noted at the funeral Monday. "It is truly the end of an era," Reeves noted. I will always remember the huge favor he did for me personally six years ago when my wife passed away. By chance, I called him to find out where the company jet might be that day as I had a granddaughter in Boulder, CO., who needed to get home as soon as possible. He checked and called me back that the plane happened to be in Denver, CO., on site acquisition business. He advised me to tell Jennifer to be at the Jefferson County Airport, just south of Boulder that afternoon at a determined time. She met the flight crew there and was home about 2 1/2 hours later. Soon after the funeral I inquired of Sheridan on how much I owed for the plane trip. He said he could not and would not accept any pay and to "forget it." I asked what I could do to compensate for such a big favor. He said I could contribute to the "Jack Reeves Memorial Scholarship Fund" at North Arkansas College. That I did in the amount it would take to purchase a commercial roundtrip plane ticket from Springfield, MO., to Denver. My memorial contribution will be to that fund now on Sheridan's untimely death. As Reeves noted in his eulogy, "His (Garrison's) business principles were the very backbone of American Freightways. They say a lot about the man himself:

1. Take care of our customers;
2. Take care of our people;
3. Honor our commitments;
4. Work hard, smart and safely, and work together;
5. Make the most of our resources;
6. Have fun!

And have fun we did!"

In a column of recent date, Harrison native, Mike Masterson, Arkansas Democrat Gazette columnist, noted that he spent most of the year 2000 directing communications for American Freightways. The privately-held firm sold to the Federal Express Corporation four months later and soon afterwards, Masterson returned to journalism "where I belonged." "In earlier years, Sheridan spread his renown sense of humor even into the news pages of the Harrison Daily Times. He and his closest friend, Harrison attorney Ken Reeves, even resorted to purchasing ads ribbing each other with messages only their mutual friends fully understood. That was all part of the good-natured fun, as long as Sheridan felt like he got the final word. The trick was never to flinch or take anything personally, but always watch for the chance to get even." Masterson added, ". . . It was my observation in my months at American Freightways, that every last one of those 1,000 or so AF associates and another 17,000 nationwide admired and revered, their often brazen and lovable leader. And make no mistake, if he was anything at all, Sheridan was a trailblazer, a wizened leader who ran down and embraced risk rather than ever fearing it." We'll miss this tall figure! ©Ozarks Newsstand 2004

Body of Suicide Found in Cave

Sheriff makes Lengthy Crawl

The body of a 64-year-old Highlandville man was found 100 feet back southeast of Highlandville shortly before 6 p.m. Wednesday. The Christian County coroner said the man was the victim of an overdose of sleeping pills. Searchers had been seeking Adrain Clarence Gideon since he left his small motel room about 3 p.m. Tuesday after telling friends he was going to a cave "where nobody will ever find me." Coroner Dean Harris said Gideon had been in ill health and had indicated to friends that he intended to take his own life. Harris said that four days ago Gideon had taken seven sleeping pills but suffered no lasting ill effects. Oscar Henry, with whom Gideon lived, told authorities he left carrying a 12-gauge shotgun and one shell. He also carried a blanket with him. When he failed to return home, a search party was organized but early efforts to locate Gideon failed. Sheriff Jack Monger said one of the searchers remembered showing Gideon the cave about a year ago, so the hunt for the man was centered in that area. It is located near the home of Jim and Jake Davis. The cave opening is about three feet wide. The sheriff said he crawled into the cave about 25 feet and found a cap. He continued crawling about 75 feet and found the body. The sheriff said Gideon had rigged the shotgun with the barrel pointed toward his body. A sting was tied to the trigger, and a rock was tied to the other end. It was believed that if the pills had failed, the man intended throwing the rock to fire the gun. Officers said the cave is so narrow inside, it is impossible for a man to turn around. A rope had to be attached to the body, and then it was pulled from the cavern. A search of Gideon's pockets revealed a full bottle of sleeping pills and another bottle which was half emptied, authorities said. Coroner Harris said no inquest is planned. The body was taken to Chaffin Funeral Home in Ozark.

The Silver Star is the Army's third highest military decoration. Lt. Ralph H. Barnes, Gilbert's platoon commander, wrote the following recommendation of Gilbert's action: "On the 24th of March, 1951, Sgt. Gilbert's platoon was assigned the mission of assaulting a hill north of Ujonbu, in South Korea. Sgt. Gilbert's platoon was pinned down by an enemy automatic weapon at the base of the hill and Sgt. Gilbert deployed his men quickly and intelligently. This action later proved to have been very wise for it resulted in the loss of not one man. Sgt. Gilbert then personally assaulted the position and by, intermittently firing his rifle and throwing grenades he silenced the weapon and engaged in an exchange of grenades with the enemy for several minutes until he succeeded in killing all of the enemy. His platoon was then able to advance and secured its objective. Shortly after his platoon's objective was secured, Sgt. Gilbert again personally assaulted another enemy automatic weapon position on a nearby hill which was holding up the advance of an adjacent company. His advance to this position was across approximately one hundred yards of a narrow ridge exposed to enemy small arms fire from nearby emplacements and was subject, at any moment, to discovery by the enemy in the position which he was approaching." Nixa Shootout Kills One Man

An inquest, investigating the death of a 43-year-old man who was fatally wounded in a shootout with police Saturday afternoon was held Wednesday evening at 7:00 in the Christian County Courthouse. The incident happened shortly before 3:00 p.m. at the home of the victim's ex-wife at 704 Lone Oak, Nixa. Answering a disturbance call, Nixa Police Chief Jack Savage found Theurel L. Girton outside the home armed with a 30-30 and a 44 magnum. Savage then called for assistance from the Highway Patrol and the Sheriff's office. According to Savage, Clinton (SIC) said he was going to kill his ex-wife and talking to him did no good. Reports indicate several shots were fired. One shot from Savage's 30 caliber revolver struck Girton in the forehead, knocking him to the ground. However, Girton managed to get to his feet and run to the back of the house. Here, he was confronted by Patrolman J. L. Stewart and Bill Ramsey who is a police officer in Ozark. Asked to throw down his weapons, he apparently refused and fired at them. Ramsey drew his 12-gauge shotgun and shot Girton. The shotgun blast was apparently the fatal blast. Ramsey is also a reserve officer in Nixa where he lives. Girton's body was taken to Adams Funeral Home in Ozark. An autopsy was performed Sunday. Christian County Coroner Dean Adams said the results would be released at the inquest Wednesday night. Savage has relieved himself of duty until after the investigation. Officer Edward Kocher will be acting Police Chief in the meantime. Girton had a history of mental problems. Christian County Sheriff said he had taken Girton to the hospital for mental treatment before. Kocher said "he believed four of the five children were home at the time and Girton was waiting for the fifth to return as he planned to kill them all."

He said the cause of death was a .00 Buckshot pellet which entered the right shoulder should then protruded the chest cavity, piercing both lungs. Six other witnesses testified at the inquiry. All testimonies were similar. Mrs. Betty Girton, the victim's ex-wife, testified Girton had placed in her mailbox a services and a veteran's card, the two items needed to finish up his business. She also testified about Girton's long history of mental illness. After all testimony was heard, the jurors deliberated only about 15 minutes before returning their verdict. They ruled Theurel L. Area Paralyzed By Heavy Snow

Brings Death To Ozark Man

A snow storm of near records proportions, accompanied by high winds which caused drifts as high as seven feet in some areas, paralyzed traffic in the southwest Missouri area Monday night and brought death to an Ozark man, Trying to shovel a path out of his driveway apparently caused a fatal heart attack for Raymond W. Glaubitz, 57, at his home in southeast Ozark. The tragedy at 3:15 Tuesday afternoon, was observed by Mrs. Glaubitz, as she watched apprehensively from a window in their home, in a hilly area where the drifting was heavy. A World War II veteran and a retired construction worker, Mr. Glaubitz had a known heart condition and had been under physician's treatment the past two years, The Glaubitz family moved here from Nebraska 14 years ago. Survivors include his wife, Gladys; two sons, Sgt. W. C. Glaubitz, Camp Lejeune, N. C. and Sgt. R. W. Glaubitz, Fort Knox, Ky.; three brothers, Francis E., Ashland and Bernard and Donald of Republic; and two grandchildren. Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Friday in the Adams Chapel in Ozark with the Rev. Allen Harrison officiating. Burial will be in National Cemetery, Springfield. The casket will remain open only until time of the services. The blizzard, which came in about mid-afternoon Monday and continued until mid-afternoon Tuesday, brought 11 to 12 inches of snow to the Ozarks, the heaviest snow since 1951. Most factories in the area, including Fasco in Ozark, were out of operation Tuesday, but almost all resumed work Wednesday. For the first time in modern memory, the Springfield schools were closed, including all four colleges and the technical and parochial schools. Most elementary and high schools remained closed Wednesday. A notable exception was the Ozark school system which returned to "business as usual" after closing Tuesday. Supt. Clyde W. McConnell reported about a 65 per cent attendance Wednesday morning. Ozark had no mail services Tuesday and a light one Wednesday, which had hampered publication of this newspaper this week. A warming trend was apparent Wednesday after a six-degree reading early Wednesday morning. However, it will take several days of sunshine and warm weather to dissipate the drifts which have clogged the rural roads. One notable effect of the storm in Ozark was the collapse of the dock awning in the Ozarks Farmers Exchange. The mishap was caused by the burden of wet snow. The debris was removed Wednesday morning.

The Blacksmith was much more than a mere shoer of horses. The true spirit of the man was his role of horse psychologist, purveyor of hardware and town handyman. He worked at his anvil hammering out tools, hinges, pots and pans, hardware and wagon springs. The "smithy" repaired and mended everything of iron that broke or wore out. The blacksmith's place in the community was an important one. Every member of the village was his customer: his shop provided a gathering place for talk and gossip by the men and one of mystery and excitement for the children.

Graves, Arlean Augusta (Moore) 2 Apr 1921 - 3 Dec 2005 SN-L 5 Dec 2005

[Note: Daughter of Ora & Juanita (Bartlett) Moore; married 19 Dec 1949 Richard Graves]

Arlean Augusta Graves, 84, Springfield, Missouri, passed away Saturday, December 3, 2005, in Cox South Hospital surrounded by her family. Arlean was born April 2, 1921, the daughter of Ora and Juanita (Bartlett) Moore. On December 19, 1949, she was united in marriage to Richard Graves and to this union four children were born. Arlean was one of the strongest, most beautiful people I have ever known whose life was spent giving to others and she made sure to make the most of it. Every morning she woke only to worry about the welfare and happiness of her children and grandchildren. Of course the joke in the family was, "Grandma would give the shirt off her back," but in all reality that was what made her so perfect. She was kind; she was loyal; but most importantly, her love never wavered and as we all stood there watching her die, our main concern was to let her know that she was loved and appreciated more than we could ever put into words. In my heart I believe she knows, and I can still see the pride in her eyes as she looked around the room and saw all four of her children. An occasion, that she informed the nurse, had not occurred in 20 years. I do not believe that my grandmother was ready to die, however, I sleep a little easier each night knowing that if any one person would end up in Heaven it would be her. She was a generous woman whose faith has never faltered. "Grandma, I love you and I will always miss you. We all will. We were all there as you left this world and each one of us looks forward to the day we shall once again be in your loving presence." She was preceded in death by her husband, her parents, two sisters, and five brothers. Arlean is survived by her loving family: two daughters, Dr. Kathleen Graves-Birdsong and husband, Roy, of Springfield, and Charleen Perry and husband, Robert, of Mequon, Wisconsin; two sons, James Graves and wife, Sheila, of Des Moines, Iowa, and Richard Graves of Hopkinsville, Kentucky; seven grandchildren: Jonathan Birdsong, Ashley Birdsong, Whitney Graves, Gabriel Opatken, Katherine Opatken, Richard Graves, Jr., and Christopher Graves; one brother, Jack Moore of Kannapolis, North Carolina; a special niece, Deloris Grey; and many loving friends. Funeral services for Arlean will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday, December 6, 2005, in Barnes Family Funeral Home, East Highway 14, Ozark, with Rev. Gary Grey officiating. Burial will follow in Maple Park Cemetery, Springfield. Visitation will be from 6 to 7 p.m. tonight, in the funeral home.

Anyone who knew Agnes Green, 96, will attest that she was a polished jewel of a lady who lived a full and active life till she died in Cox South Hospital, surrounded by her family on June 16, 2005. Agnes was born on January 22, 1909, in Mentor, Mo., one of eight children in the Randles family. The others all have preceded her in death. Also preceding her in death were her husband, Halland; and her son, Lloyd Melvin Jarmin. Agnes met Halland Green after a revival at the Bois D'Arc Baptist Church in 1929. They were both saved at that revival, soon married, and in the decades that followed, their belief in Jesus Christ and their commitment to each other never wavered. Halland and Agnes worked side-by-side throughout their life together to: -endure the hardship and challenge of the Great Depression. Whether picking fruit in California or working in a tomato factory in Bois D'Arc, they worked as partners. -rebuild Tatum Chapel after it was struck by lightning in 1956. -build dozens of custom homes in the Springfield area. -raise their children and be active in the lives of their grandchildren. With Hal's death in 1987, Agnes lost her partner. But she stayed active in the life of her new church home, Southgate Baptist, where she was known by her grandkid's name for her, "Nana." Nana also rediscovered a love of reading late in life. In fact, it seemed that while others her age were content to lose interest in new ideas, Nana's curiosity grew. At the Baptist Home in Ozark, where she lived for the last two years, she shared her positive attitude and sparkle with others every day. Memories of Nana will always be connected with doing something. Never idle, we will all remember her working on a quilt with the Sunshine Pals; baking the world's greatest blackberry cobbler; reading a special poem that she'd found in a favorite book; or just working with Papa to put out another garden. Many believe that heaven is a place of eternal rest, but our guess is that Nana has already found something to do. She was polished by the grind of hard work and now she can shine forever. She is survived by her daughter, Kay Smith; a daughter-in-law, Jean Jarmin; grandchildren, Todd Smith, Timm Smith, Tiffany (Smith) Washburn, Jeanne Jarmin, and Joanie Jarmin. Six great-grandchildren will also miss their Nana. A closed-casket funeral service will be held at 1 p.m. on Monday, June 20, in Southgate Baptist Church. Visitation is from 2 to 4 p.m. today in Greenlawn Funeral Home South. Memorial contributions, to the charity of your choice, are appreciated.

Bowhunter Dies of Gun Wound

Further developments are expected in the matter of the death of Marshall Griffin, 36, of Oregon, Mo., whose body was found in a ditched automobile last Sunday near Christian Center, southeast of Ozark. Griffin is reported to have come to the area from his northeast Missouri home to bow hunt for deer. Coroner Dean Harris first attributed his death to an arrow wound in his left breast, possibly incurred in a fall from a tree. Later examination by the coroner revealed a bullet wound in Griffin's back, and this triggers and extensive investigation into his death by the Christian County Prosecutor's Office. An autopsy is being conducted and a coroner's jury will be called upon its completion. Griffin is survived by his mother, Mrs. Marie Griffin of St. Joseph, Mo.

Bull Creek Road Victim Met Death From a Gunshot
Coroner's Jury Hears Evidence On Bizarre Case

A coroner's jury rules Wednesday night that Marshall W. Griffin, 26, Oregon, Mo. came to his death Dec. 12 as a result of a gunshot wound by person or persons unknown. The death scene was just east of Christian county W on the Bull Creek Road about seven miles southeast of Ozark. Dr. Guido Podreccia, pathologist, testified that the man died from loss of blood and from having breathed blood into his lungs. He testified that the man's left scapula was shattered and that some ribs on the left side were broken and indicated that the broken ribs had punctured the lung to produce profuse bleeding. Some metal fragments were found in the chest. It was Dr. Podreccia's opinion that the bullet hit the left scapula. He guess that it's force would not have come from anything as small as a .22 bullet. He told Coroner Dean Harris that the man lived at least five minutes after being hit, maybe a lot longer. A number of persons observed Mr. Griffin - dead, they thought, in his car, a blue Valiant, on the Bull Creek Road. C. H. Sherer, one who had passed the body, called Ozark police and the highway patrol came. At 8:45 a.m. on Dec. 12, Mancel Reynolds, whose home is near the scene, heard a loud gun report. "It was unusually loud. I would guess a .303 or 762," he said. Then he heard a sound like a motorcycle or a chain saw trying to start. Less than five minutes later, he heard crunching of gravel. Then he saw a white Chevrolet, he thought, pass his home at 60 miles an hour. "It hit the blacktop and did not stop," he said. "It took the highway at 40 miles an hour. I supposed they were taking someone to the doctor." Reynolds said he saw the car about four minutes in all. Mrs. Robert Hagton, of Highlandville, drove by a car with her aunt and noticed the body. Her aunt called the sheriff's office. Kenneth Van Horn, 20, drove by, and noticed the body, The whitish skin made him sure the man was dead. He went and picked up Sherer and came back. When Trooper Ernest McCutchen of Springfield arrived at 10:40 a.m., the man was still bleeding profusely from the mouth and nose, he testified. There was an unstrung bow and arrows in the back of the car. The ignition key in the Valiant had been turned off. Deputy Sheriff Harold Wampler testified that he arrived a few minutes later. A gate was 28 steps from the car. It opened into a field. Wampler measured the steps. and he saw blood on the ground near the gate. A nearby tree had on it what appeared to be a bullet crease, he testified. There were no broken windows in the car. Wampler looked under the hood. He found a shiny spot on the fan that indicated scraping. It wasn't known if it was connected with the "chain saw" noise Reynolds had heard. - - Springfield Daily News

Ivan L. Hall, 38, Died of Drowning at Swan Creek

Ivan Leroy "Bill" Hall, 38, of Lead Hill, eight miles east of Chadwick, was drowned Tuesday while fishing on Swan Creek north of Taneyville. His fishing companion, Louis Guerin, also of the Chadwick area, almost lost his life as his boat capsized as he attempted to rescue Hall. Mr. Guerin was save by two other fisherman, Richard Teel, Springfield and Hugh Hensley, Hartville, who also recovered Hall's Body. Taney County Sheriff Lyman Cardwell said Hall fell into the frigid water about 2:30 p.m. when he stepped on the edge of the 10-foot flat-bottom alumnim boat from which he and Guerin were fishing. This caused the boat to shoot away from Hall. Guerin tried to row back to Hall but the craft tipped over and threw him into the creek as well. Guerin shouted for help. Teel and Hensley jumped into the water and pulled Guerin to safety, then brought Hall out of the water, but resuscitation efforts failed. No inquest into Hall's death is planned, Neither Hall nor Guerin was wearing a life vest. Hall was the eighth person to die of drowning in the Ozarks this year. In memory of Norman Lee Hampton who was killed in an automobile accident June 22, 1978. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hampton, Ozark, MO.

I WOULD NOT GRIEVE TOO MUCH

I would not grieve too much. The Promise Tells That rest is his who sleeps so sweetly there; Beyond the dull, slow tolling of the bells, Which marks his passing, life is free from care. You would not mourn if your love should rise To wear the royal purple and the crown. Should gain the glory of the great Wise, And put the tools of humble down. Suppose that life should call some friend you know, Out of the ranks, and end his days of care, You would rejoice and smile to see him go Though you remained to work and struggle there, Should high promotion call some friend away To crown with conquest all his earthly years, You would not plead and bid with him to stay, But thinking of his joy, you would bide your tears. So, when death comes, though hard it seems to bear, And long the years with all their loneliness, The loved one has been called away from care To high promotion, rest and happiness, He has been called from pain and hurt and strife, From all the ills that fall to flesh and clay, He has been raised into an ampler life, Nor should we mourn to much who still must stay. Very much and sadly missed by his parents, Rev.

and Mrs. Lee Hampton and brother Darrell Hampton. But by faith to meet him again although maybe our flesh gets weak, God will give us strength to sustain all it.

He leaves to mourn his going his devoted companion, Mrs. Lou Hanks; a son Truman, daughter-in-law, Cecile; two grandchildren, Michael Riley and Linda Lou Hanks; one sister, Mrs. Nola Payne; three brothers, Emery, Floyd and Loyal Hanks, many other relatives and a host of friends. In Remembrance of Tommy Harp

A letter to Dad

There are so many things I'd like to tell you face to face.
I either lack the words or fail to find the time or place.
But in this special letter, Dad, you'll find at least in part
The feeling that the missing years have left within my heart.
The memory of childhood days and all that you have done
To make our home a happy place and growing up so much fun
I still recall the walks we took, the games we often played
Those confidential chats we had while resting in the shade.
This letter comes to thank you, Dad for needed words of praise
The counsel and the guidance, too, that shaped my childhood days.
No words of mine can tell you Dad the things I really feel.
But you must know my love for you is lasting, warm and real.
You made my world a better place and through the coming years,
I'll keep those memories of you as treasured souvenirs!
By Claris Dye

Following Nixa Shooting

Truck Driver Facing Two Murder Counts.

What started as a disturbance at a mobile home park north of Nixa last Saturday afternoon ended with two persons dead and a third facing two counts of first degree murder. Before the incident was over, a woman and a man said to be her boyfriend were shot to death by the woman's estranged husband. Victims of the shooting were identified as Elizabeth Ann Hartsgrove, 37, mother of five and Racy Askin Paugh, 47, both formerly from Massachusetts. Arrested at the scene by Christian County Sheriff Joe Mayberry and later charged with two counts of murder by Assistant Prosecutor Joe Crain was Clifton Hartsgrove, 48, husband of the dead woman. Sheriff Mayberry reported that the shootings took place in the presence of the woman's five children ages 4 to 10 years. Four of the children were Hartgroves' and one by a previous marriage. Sheriff Mayberry said that he was called to the scene by neighbors who reported a disturbance, but upon arrival found that both victims were dead and Hartsgrove present. The sheriff upon entering the trailer met Hartsgrove in a hallway who, according to the sheriff, said, "Don't shoot. it's all over." Mayberry said Hartsgrove offered no resistance and told the children to "go in and tell you mother good-bye." Coroner Dean Adams reported that Hartsgrove said he came here four days ago from Ohio where he and Paugh were truck drivers. Paugh and Mrs. Hartsgrove had reportedly lived here for two or three months. Sheriff Mayberry said that both victims had apparently been beaten prior to the shooting, resulting in the reported disturbance. Mrs. Hartsgrove was shot once in the chest with a .38 cal. pistol and Paugh three times in the chest and back. The victims' bodies were taken to Adams Funeral Home pending later arrangements. Hartsgrove was taken before Magistrate Judge Claude Boone who scheduled his preliminary hearing for Oct. 30. Hartsgrove is being held in Christian County jail without bond.

Hartsgrove Murder Trial Underway

The often delayed trial of Clifton Hartsgrove began at 9 a.m. Tuesday, October 29. Hartsgrove is charged with the shooting death of his wife, Betty and Mr. Racie Paugh with whom she had been residing. The shooting occurred nearly one year ago at Chalet City Mobile Home Park, near Nixa. The morning was given largely to selecting a jury. 48 men and women were chosen as possible jurors listened with both Prosecuting Attorney Jim Eifert and defense attorney Bill Went asked questions and discussed jurors responsibilities during the trial. A jury consisting of 12 men was finally chosen around noon. When court reconvened after the noon recess, testimony was heard from Ed Kocher who was employed as a handyman at the trailer court. Also testifying were Linda Vercie and George Allen, both residents of the park at the time of the shootings.

Witnesses testified that Hartsgrove had been seen at the park on the day of the shooting. They said that he was involved in a fight with Mr. Paugh was last seen with a gun pointed at Mrs. Hartsgrove. The trial will continue through Wednesday and is expected to end early Thursday .

Murder Trial Ends in Hartsgrove Case

The trial of Clifton Hartsgrove, charged with the shooting deaths of his wife, Elizabeth "Betty" Hartsgrove and Mr. Racie Paugh, with whom Mrs. Hartsgrove had been living, ended Friday, November 1. The jury deliberated nearly two hours before returning a verdict of guilt on two counts of second degree murder. The trial, which lasted four days, saw a large group of witnesses testifying that they saw Mr. Hartsgrove at the trailer court where the shooting took place. The time lag of nearly one year since the shooting clouded the recollections of some witnesses who were unable to recall some of the details of their previous testimony at the preliminary hearings. Hartsgrove who was attired in a sweatshirt throughout the trial showed great emotion when mention of the shooting of his wife was made. Court was recessed on more than two occasions to allow Hartsgrove to regain his composure. Hartsgrove testified that he had no intention of shooting anyone but that he wanted his wife and kids returned. He testified that he lost control while talking to his wife and Mr. Paugh; however he stated that the actual shooting is not clear in his memory. The second degree verdict was reached because clear evidence of premeditation , necessary for a first degree murder conviction, was lacking. The jury recommended the two 12-year sentences be given Hartsgrove for the shootings. Sentencing has been set for December 13 at the Christian County Courthouse.

Hartsgrove Gets 24 Years

Clifton Hartsgrove, convicted on two murder charges was sentenced to 24 years in prison by Circuit Judge Clifford Crouch. The jury recommended that Hartsgrove be sentenced to two 12 year terms in prison to run consecutively after he was found guilty on two counts of second degree murder on October 31. A motion for a new trial was overruled by Judge Crouch. Defence Attorney Bill Wendt filed a notice of appeal and then was permitted to resign from the case. A new attorney for the appeal will be appointed by Judge Crouch. Charges of jailbreak to which Hartsgrove pleaded guilty to Friday drew a two-year sentence to run with the murder charge. The crime that Hartsgrove was charged with was for the murder of his wife and her boyfriend on October 20, 1973 committed at a mobile home park north of Nixa. He has been in jail since the shooting except for a brief period on June 1, when he escaped with three other inmates by picking the lock with a piece of wire. Wendt argued for concurrent sentences on the murder charges, maintaining that it was the jury's intention that Hartsgrove serve only 12 years. Christian County Prosecuting Attorney Jim Eifert, on the other hand, argued that the jurors intended for Hartsgrove to serve 12 years on each county. In his argument, Eifert noted that Hartsgrove was eligible for parole even before his trial, since he had been in jail for more than a year. He pointed out that Hartsgrove was convicted on two murders and had been convicted of prior felonies.

Mrs. Tisha Haslip, 65, route 1, Ozark and Mrs. Brooksie Allen, 41, Battle Creek, Mich., were killed in a headon collision Thursday afternoon near Ozark. Both women were passengers in cars which rammed together during a driving rain about 1:30 p.m. Thursday. The scene of the crash was on highway 14, about a half mile east of highway 65. In "only fair" condition at Springfield Baptist hospital Thursday night were Mrs. Haslip's husband, Sam, 65, Miss Winnie Fay Allen, 17-year-old daughter of the dead woman, and Miss Allen's grandmother, Mrs. Mary Holt, 77, of Pampa, Texas. Mrs. Holt, a widow, appeared to be most seriously injured, suffering from severe shock and possibly internal injuries. Mr. Haslip is receiving treatment for a broke right leg and multiple cuts on his head and face. Miss Allen suffered a fractured jaw, a contusion on her left knee and severe lacerations on the right cheek and upper forehead. Both dead women suffered head and other injuries in the wreck. Mrs. Haslip was killed instantly. Mrs. Allen died enroute to Haguewood hospital at Ozark, where all the victims were given emergency treatment before being taken to Springfield in two Chaffin ambulances. Cause of the crash was not learned immediately, since both drivers, Miss Allen and Haslip, were in a state of shock. Coroner T.B. Chaffin stated that an inquest will be delayed pending their recovery. No one was thrown out of the cars although both machines were virtually demolished. The entire motor of Miss Allen's 1948 Frazier sedan was telescoped back into the front seat of the car by the impact and the front of Haslip's 1932 DeSoto coupe suffered heavy damage. Officers said the pavement was extremely slick. The crash occurred on a straight stretch of pavement. The car carrying the Michigan women appeared to be over the center line, authorities reported, and added the heavy downpour may have blinded the driver. The elder Mrs. Holt, her daughter and granddaughter had been visiting relatives at Chadwick and were believed to have been enroute back to Michigan at the time of the mishap. The Haslips, who live about seven miles south of Ozark, were returning to their farm home after a trip to Ozark. Mrs. Haslip had been a lifelong resident of the Ozark vicinity and in addition to her husband, she is survived by four sons, Clyde, Clifford, Claude, and Carl, all of Ozark, and two daughters, Mrs. Edith Hamby of the state of Washington, and Mrs. Ida Delisle of Ozark.
