Novelist's Death Termed Suicide

Funeral Friday for Homer Hatten

Funeral services for Homer Hatten, 53, well-known resident of Lindenlure, six miles northeast of Ozark on Finley River, will be held Friday morning at 9:00 o'clock at St. Agnes Church, Springfield, with burial in Linden Cemetery. Rosary services will be held Thursday night at Chaffin Funeral Chapel, Ozark. The successful novelist's death occurred Wednesday morning at 8:45 a.m. at Haguewood Hospital, Ozark where he had been rushed in a Chaffin ambulance after his wife, Rosamond found him unconscious about 7 o'clock. Coroner Dean Harris ruled the death a suicide following an inquest Wednesday night. An overdose of sleeping pills was the apparent cause and a reported "suicide note" substantiated the verdict. The following is from Wednesday evening Springfield Leader and Press: "Hatten's death continues a chain of tragedies at the riverside residence. Hatten's first wife, Ruth, was fatally injured there about a year ago in a fall down a stairway. She had inherited the cottage from her mother, who was drowned in the Finley lake above the small dam at Lindenlure several years ago. Hatten moved to Lindenlure about four years ago after giving up an advertising executive's job in Kansas City to devote full time to writing historical novels, several of which have been published. The novels stemmed from historical research Hatten did about the early days of Westport Landing (Kansas City) which he undertook for an advertising campaign. All of his novels have covered that period in the west and southwest parts of the country. His latest published work is "Jezebel in Crinoline." At the time of his death, Hatten was working on two novels simultaneously. He had a contract for both and was trying to meet a deadline, friends reported. Hatten was active in Springfield and Missouri writers' groups and was eager to help new writes, associates said today. He was a speaker at the May meeting of the Missouri Writer's Guild in Columbia. In addition to his wife, Hatten is survived by a step-sister, Mrs. John Souders, of the state of Ohio.

[Note: Son of Loren Robert & Martha (Boner) Head; married 1952 Joyce Ellene Cams]

Charles William Head, Ozark, died peacefully in the company of his loving family March 9 at St. John's Regional Health Center, following a long and courageous battle with lymphatic cancer. Head was a devoted husband, father, grandfather, brother, and uncle. Head lived a long and rich life, having been born into relatively small means on April 24, 1920, to Loren Robert Head and Martha Boner Head in Ash Grove. He attended Ash Grove High School and later enlisted in the U.S. Army on his birthday in 1942. As a staff sergeant in the Army's 10th Armored Division, he bravely defended our country's threatened freedom against the Nazi plague of that time. His military decorations included the Purple Heart, which he received after being injured during a mission to rescue other injured soldiers. Following the war, Head toured with and managed his brother and sister-in-law's band, The Saddle Rock 'n' Rhythm, before returning to Missouri and proposing to Joyce Ellene Cams, whom he married in 1952. Head had a keen interest and ear for talent in country-western and western swing music. After their marriage, Charlie and Joyce Head traveled extensively through Kansas, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, and Nebraska for his job with Neale Construction Company, of Topeka, Kan. They settled in Everton, and later, Galena, where Head worked with the Modern Telephone Company, which later became Continental Telephone, and then GTE Telephone. He retired from GTE Telephone in 1983. The Heads moved to Ozark in 1967, where they raised their three surviving children, Kelley, Tracey, and James. The couple became active in community and civic affairs in Ozark, where Head served on an appointed committee as part of a pilot project for the state, bringing local emergency medical and ambulance services to small towns. This successful program later became the Christian County Ambulance Service. Head was a long-term member of the Ozark Rotary Club, and a long-term honored member of the Ozark Booster Club, which sponsors Ozark's annual rodeo and bull ride, and facilitated the state high school rodeo. He believed strongly in giving back to one's community, and that his participation and leadership in civic organizations, especially the Booster Club, would benefit the community more than a single individual's isolated efforts. Head is fondly remembered for his mechanical and technical aptitude and his personal philosophy that there is beauty in simplicity. He lived through the Great Depression and learned during that time that life's simple pleasures can indeed be gratifying, and that men are largely responsible for their destinies, shaped by their decisions throughout life. His common-sense approach to living could benefit many who seek answers to complex questions in a modern world. He was preceded in death by his parents; son Joel; brother Shorty Thompson; sisters Mildred Head White and Mary Margaret Head Marshall. Survivors include his wife Joyce; son James, Austin, Texas; daughters Kelley Head and Tracey Bradley; son-in-law Scott Bradley; and granddaughters Rainey and Norrie Bradley and Laura Jane Head, Ozark; sister Shirley Templeton, Phoenix, Ariz.; brother-in-law Jerry Cams, Springfield; classmate and dear friend Bud Simmons, Ash Grove; numerous nieces and nephews in California, Missouri, Tennessee, and Texas; and beloved pets Dandy, Poco, and Kay-Kay. [Note: Son of Claude & ? (?) Hedgpeth]

Again the great master has visited our midst and called home the beloved infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hedgpeth. James Russel Hedgpeth age 1 year, 10 months and 27 days died July 31st 1923. On the night of July 31st, after five days of the most painful suffering and all that living hands and kind Drs. Wasson, Robertson and Hultz could do as the clock pointed to the hour of nine, death stealing down, kissed the pale, sweet brown and the little sufferer returned home. Russel was a child loved by all who knew him. His bright and sunny disposition won for him many friends. Although the dear mother and father are heartbroken over their loss, but to them it is comforting to know that although Russel cannot come back to them, they may go to him and their loss is heaven's gain. Jesus said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me, for such is the kingdom of heaven. Russel leaves a father and mother with grandfathers and grandmothers and a host of other relatives and friends to mourn their loss. He was laid to rest in Payne Cemetery, B. F. West conducting the funeral service

The golden sun is shining upon the loved one's grave

The one we loved so dearly and tried so hard to save

And when we lost our dear one, we lost our dearest babe

We love you and we miss you and we ever shall

So rest in peace dear Russel, safe in heaven's tower

The day we shall meet grows nearer every hour

His eyes were like skies of glad summertime

His heart was full of sweetness

His face was home of smiles so sweet

To us he surely belonged

So God took him away, took our little Russel

And the days are empty and long

Sadly missed by his mother, daddy, grandmother and all

Written by his aunt, Flora Kilter [Note: Most of the front page was taken up with stories about the death of President Harding.]

After waiving formal arraignment, Francis Henry, Highlandville service station operator faced preliminary trial before magistrate Herbert Taylor at Ozark Thursday morning and was bound over to the May term of Christian County circuit court on second degree murder charges in connection with the death of Ward “Cotton” Hedgpeth of Nixa. Hedgpeth’s death occurred the night of February 20, at Henry’s service station, a short distance east of the 65-160 junction in Highlandville. A coroner’s request last week determined that Hedgpeth “died as a result of felony committed by the hand of one Francis Henry” Hedgpeth died a few minutes after being struck in the left chest by a blast from a 12 guage shotgun. The incident occurred inside the service station in Highlandville. After hearing the testimony of witnesses at the preliminary Thursday morning, Magistrate Taylor reduced the charges from first degree murder and bound the defendent over to circuit court. Bond was placed at $10,000 which was provided. The defendent was originally charged with manslaughter by Prosecuting Attorney Sam Appleby, but later evidence prompted Appleby to file a first degree murder charge. Witnesses heard at the Thursday preliminary included Oren Eugene Ball and Charles Edward Blevins, Hedgpeth’s companions on the night of the shooting., Sheriff Clay Hodges of Christian County and Dr, David F. Gorelick, Springfield pathologist for the prosecution; Ozark City Marshal Buff Lamb, Sheriff Glen Hendrix of Green County and Prosecutor Appleby for the defense. Appleby was called to the stand by defense attorney Wayne Walker of Springfield to testify as to statements taken from eye witnesses on the night of the shooting. Appleby is being assisted in the prosecution by Attorney Doug Greene of Springfield.

Murder Trial Nears End at Marshfield

Henry Testifies in Own Defense

The jury is expected to begin deliberation this afternoon at Marshfield in the second degree murder trial of Francis Henry, 60-year-old Highlandville cafe and service station operation, charged with the slaying last February 29 of Ward “Cotton” Hedgpeth, 28, of Nixa. Henry is charged with killing Hedgpeth with a 12-guage shotgun in the Highlandville restaurant. He testified Wednesday afternoon in his own defense, and stated that the killing was accidental -- that Hedgpeth has been causing trouble, cursing and fighting, just before the shooting, and that he (Henry) walked out from behind the counter with the gun with the intention of hitting Hedgpeth, not shooting him. Henry then testified that Owen Ball began grappling with him, and the gun was discharged, killing Hedgpeth almost instantly. Other defense witnesses who have testified include persons who were in the cafe at the time of the shooting. The trial began Tuesday morning in Webster County Circuit Court at Marshfield, where it was transferred on change of venue. The prosecution rested its case Wednesday morning, after introducing several witnesses. City Marshal L. E. “Buff” Lamb of Ozark testified he was the first officer to reach the scene after the shooting and that Henry admitted killing Hedgpeth. He also testified that Henry had earlier threatened to kill Hedgpeth. Sheriff Clay Hodges of Christian County also testified that Henry admitted killing Hedgpeth. Charles Blevins of Nixa, Hedgpeth’s companion at the time of the shooting, testified that Henry said that he shot Hedgpeth and said after the killing that he meant to kill him. A transcript of Owen Ball's testimony at the preliminary hearing was that Henry admitted to the killing and said he intended to kill him. Thursday morning is expected to be spent hearing rebuttal witnesses, and the case will go to the jury following arguments by counsel for the prosecution and defense.

How we miss our darling Helen, No more on earth to roam; One sweet thought again we'll meet her, On the Resurrection morn, She was converted when eleven years old and united with the 1st Central Baptist church. Oh! The joys of that morning, when our loved ones we meet; With songs of the Saints, we each other shall greet. No more to be parted through eternities years, And the past all forgotten with its sorrows and tears. (Christian County Republican, 02 March 1923). Contributed by Bill Goss.

IN MEMORY OF SHRILDA HENRY Born July 25th, 1830. Departed this life February 21, 1923 at the age of 92 years, 6 mos., and 26 days. Four living children mourn her death.

We hear the soft wind sighing, Through every bush and tree, Where now her form is lying, Away from love and me. Tears from our eyes are streaming, And sorrow shades our brow, Oh weary was our arting, We have no mother now. We see the pale moon shining, Upon the white head stone, The rosebush around it twining, Is here, like we, alone. And just like we are weeping, Those dewdrops from the boughs, Short time has she been sleeping, We have no mother now. Our hearts are ever lonely, Our life is drear and sad, 'Twas her dear presence only, That made our spirits glad. From morning until evening. Care rests upon our brow She's gone from us to Heaven, We have no mother, now. (Christian County Republican, 02 March 1923). Contributed by Bill Goss.

CARD OF THANKS We would thank our friends and neighbors for every generous deed and for all their kind assistance in our hour of need during the illness and death of our dear mother Shrilda Henry. The Selmore W. C. T. U. we wish to thank for the beautiful flowers that was placed on mother's grave. Her Children (Christian County Republican, 02 March 1923). Contributed by Bill Goss.

Backing Auto Causes Death of 2-year-Old

Struck by a car backing from a driveway, a 2-year-old Springfield girl lived only a few minutes after reaching a hospital last Friday night, May 20. The tragic accident which claimed the life of Stephanie Alayne Hilton, daughter of Phyllis June Hilton, occurred in front of the child's home at 738 South Ferguson shortly before 7 p.m. Mrs.

Shelby Jean Cole, 28, who also resides at the Ferguson address, told Sgt. Jack Snodgrass that she was preparing to go to the laundry when she began backing her 1959 Ford sedan from the driveway. The woman said she had noticed the youngster on the front porch earlier, but didn't see her there or around the car when she got into her vehicle. Mrs. Cole said she intended to back into the street and head north but heard a scream from the child's mother, who shouted for her to stop the car quickly and did not pull forward. The mother had thought Stephanie was in the house and after failing to find her looked outside and discovered her lying beside the car in a pool of blood. Sgt. Snodgrass said the backing vehicle's right front tire apparently struck the child in the head as she stood on a graveled area beside the driveway. The wheel evidently did not pass over her head, according to the officer. Rushed to Burge-Protestant Hospital by AA Ambulance, the youngster lived only five minutes after arrival, according to a physician. Death was caused by a compound skull fracture and severe brain injuries. The child's mother said Stephanie who was two years old, rarely left the front porch but occasionally went into the yard when her grandparents came to take her for a ride. The mother believed the girl thought she was going to be taken for a ride in the Cole auto when the accident occurred, Snodgrass said. In addition to the mother, the child is survived by grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Loyal Hilton and great grandmother, Mrs. Della Hilton of Ozark. Funeral services were Sunday afternoon at Prospect Baptist Church, with burial in McCoy Cemetery under direction of Ayre-Goodwin of Springfield.

"Lonnie" Stewart was the daughter of Squire James Fielding & Alice C. (Couch) Holt; and the stone in Spokane Cemetery for Kenneth Willard "K. W." Holt has the lifespan as 29 Aug 1917 - 14 Sep 2000; since whoever this is is a mere six years and ten days older than Mrs. Stewart, it must have actually meant a sister, especially since it goes on to say "another sister"; 1880 Stone County Flat Creek Twp census does show James F. & Alice C. (Couch) Holt with a two year old son John W. Holt. I think this REALLY is John W. Holt, son of James F. & Alice C. (Couch) Holt]

In Memorium

This is a copy of a letter written to Arthur Ray Horst on his 18th birthday, March 16, 1951 by his mother and found in his letter box after his death by his father: Eighteen Years ago, today, my son, was a special one. With the early sun, I looked at you with awe and wonder. You were a tiny man, as sure as thunder! I was young and you were so small, I was scared I'd let you fall, But every finger and toe was there -- God had answered my every prayer. Could I make a man of this tiny mite? You would cry and scream and try to fight. I was more than eighteen times as old as you, and But of all the experiences we did go through, I often wonder if I ever would be as much trouble to you as you were to me. I often wondered if you would be the kind of man I like to see - Honest and brave and kind and good. I knew if I prayed you surely would. When you got the poison, I turned gray because of worry to see you sick that way. Again God was so very kind, Making you well and saving my mind. God must have something very special for you to do because of all he had taken you through. Never forget to count your blessings as days go by, And for greater things of life you will surely try. You are very tall now with eyes of heavenly blue, A good clean character all built in you. You can have glory, honor and fame, If you never forget the value of a good, clean name. Now, as I write with a tear in my eye - you will remember all the happiness, smiles and tears. They've all been a blessing - those eighteen years. And a message from a friend who had lost a son in his teens - Love is even stronger than death, and the ones for whom we sorrow will live forever in our hearts and through our thought through each tomorrow.

Mr. Howard, affectionately (sic) known as "Jack" was recognized as an outstanding banker known for his sound bank principles, excellent judgment and integrity. He was the oldest active banker in Missouri. Mr. Howard served on the Board of Education of the Billings school for 50 years. In his early years, he was surveyor, school teacher and farmer. He helped survey many of the farms and lands here in Christian County. Andrew Jackson Howard was born on December 26, 1858 on this farm on James River. He was graduated from the old Marionville College in 1878 and attended the University of Missouri. Willis L. Howard, 38, of Highlandville star route, was fatally injured at 5:30 Wednesday afternoon when he was struck by a car in front of the Oran Baird grocery on Highway 65. In Christian County jail charged with manslaughter is Marshall Leroy Adams, 50, of Route 9, Springfield. There were no eyewitnesses to the accident, but Sheriff Clay Hodges reconstructed it from information from persons who were nearby. Howard, he said, was riding with Ernest Dye, also of near Highlandville, and they had stopped and parked at the west curb just south of the Baird Grocery, and just south of a flatbed truck owned by T. J. Stoner. About twenty feet north of Stoner's truck was a car belonging to Roy Dougan. Dougan had parked his car close to the curb, leaving little room between it and a rope marking off some construction work started on the vacant lot just south of the grocery building. Howard stepped to the curb from the Dye machine and walked along the curb past the Stoner truck toward the grocery, then went toward the pavement to pass Dougan's car between the car and the pavement, there being about three feet between the car and the pavement. Just as he was alongside Dougan's car, he was struck by Adams' southbound 1937 two-door Ford. Howard's legs were mashed between the Ford and the left front fender of Dougan's Oldsmobile, he was jammed toward the front of the Oldsmobile and thrown to the ground in front of it. Adams' car hit the right front corner of the flatbed of Stoner's truck and the impact tore off the door of the Ford and left it flattened out against the truck bed. Stoner and Dye were at the store and were among the first to reach the injured man. A Chaffin ambulance was called by Mrs. Cecil Bunch, who lives just south of the vacant lot. Howard was taken first to Haguewood hospital and then rushed to a Springfield hospital where he died about twenty minutes after his arrival. Coroner T.B. Chaffin said Howard's injuries included a fractured skull, broken left arm and a broken left leg that was almost severed. No inquest was called. Adams, who was drunk according to Sheriff Hodges and Deputy Sheriff N.C. Nelson, was taken to jail immediately. Adams was arraigned before Magistrate Judge Herbert Taylor this morning and committed to jail in default of $7,500 bond. Hearing in magistrate court is set for Wednesday, October 25. Howard is survived by his wife and two children about 12 and 9 years old.

Marshall LeRoy Adams, 50, formerly of Route 9, Springfield, now living in Laclede County, pleaded guilty to manslaughter before Judge Tom R. Moore in Douglas County Circuit Court at Ava last Friday and was sentenced to five years in the state penitentiary. Adams had been free on bail since his indictment following the death of Willis L. Howard, 38, of Highlandville after a collision in Ozark last Oct. 18. In a hearing immediately following the trial State Senator D. Raymond Carter of Marshfield, Adams' attorney, entered application for parole for his client. Sen. Carter's plea was that Adams suffers from a chronic asthmatic condition. Evidence presented at the time of Adams' arraignment showed that he had been drinking before the accident occurred. Sen. Carter argued that Adams' asthmatic condition, rather than intoxicants, could have been responsible for a temporary blackout, or "smothering" at the time of the accident. Adams professed to have no memory of the events immediately preceding and following the tragedy. No objection was entered by Prosecuting Attorney Bill Davenport of Christian County, and a bench parole was granted by Judge Moore. Howard was crushed between Adams' south-bound car and a car parked off the highway near the former Baird grocery on Highway 65 in Ozark. He died an hour later in a Springfield hospital from a fractured skull and other injuries. He left a widow and two minor daughters. In another case moved to Douglas Circuit Court on change of venue, Forrest Lynch of Seymour pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while drinking and was fined $100 and costs which he paid. He was picked up in Ozark nearly a year ago.

Diving Mishap In Finley River Fatal For Youth

Humphreys, Hugh Kenneth "Ken" 27 Nov 1923 - 12 Dec 2005 SN-L 13 Dec 2005 & SN-L 14 Dec 2005

[Note: Son of Burney & Hugh Humphreys]

Ken Humphreys (Hugh Kenneth Humphreys), 82, of Nixa, died on December 12, 2005. He was born in Memphis, Tenn., on November 27, 1923, to Burney and Hugh Humphreys. He attended Idlewild Elementary School, Fairview Jr. High and graduated from Memphis Central High in 1941. He attended the University of Tennessee in Knoxville, Tenn., earning a B.S. in Chemical Engineering. Ken's class load was very heavy his last year at UT, as he was eager to support his country with the war effort, and joined the U.S. Navy upon graduating. He served there for two years until World War II ended. Ken then returned to Memphis and accepted a position with Buckeye Cellulose as a Design Engineer (brief jobs with Firestone Tire Co. and Kimberly Clark preceded this position.) He attended Central Christian Church and in 1956, became a charter member of Kingsway Christian Church. As a boy, Ken had been active in Boy Scouts and later served tirelessly as Scoutmaster. During his 29 years as a Scoutmaster, he helped over 120 young boys earn their Eagle Scout rank, including his own two nephews. Ken also served as Leader of Troops at four National Jamborees and published numerous articles for the popular scouting magazine, "Boys Life". History was another of Ken's special interests. Civil War History, Circus History, and any history concerning his home state were his particular passions. He served one term on the Tennessee Historical Commission, was a member of the Shelby County Historical Commission, Chairman of the Historical Markers Committees for THC, SCHC and West Tennessee Historical Society for many years. Ken edited the original and a later revised edition of "Official Historical Markers in Memphis and Shelby County". Ken continued to support The Circus Fans of America and served as Chairman of the Tennessee Chapter for a few years. Ken managed to combine his love of history and scouting in 1960 when he founded an educational historic hiking trail program at Shiloh National Military Park. His "Pathways to History" program is nationally known and remains very popular. It was eventually expanded to include 19 trails at Shiloh and many historic parks in Memphis, Fort Pillow, Fort Johnson and elsewhere in western Tennessee. It is estimated that over a million hikers have hiked these trails. Some have been the general public, but most are Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and various other youth groups. In 1997, Ken's love of family enabled him to say farewell to Memphis, his home of 74 years, to live with his only sibling and her husband in Nixa, Mo., (Bev and Tom Parish). A wonderful tribute was celebrated at Kingsway Christian Church before he left. There, hundreds of former scouts gathered to share their admiration and gratitude to Ken Humphreys. Doctors, lawyers, teachers, and business owners/CEO's and fellow Scout Leaders managed to both surprise and honor Ken with kind words of Praise. Later in 1997, some of these same scouts dedicated a cabin in Hardy, Arkansas, at Old Camp Kia Kima, in Ken's honor. Survivors include his beloved sister, Beverly Parish, and brother-in-law, Tom, of Nixa; nephew, Tommy and his wife, Tammy; greatniece, Amelia, of Nixa; niece, Bette Jayne Parish, of Overland Park, Kan.; nephew, Andy and his wife, Rebekah; great-nephew, Adam; and great-nephew, Garrett, of Leawood, Kan. Memorial services will be held at South Street Christian Church in Springfield, where Ken was a member, at 11 a.m. on Thursday, December 15, 2005. Visitation will follow. A graveside service in Memphis, Tenn., will be held at a later date. Memorial donations may be made to South Street Christian Church. Arrangements are under the direction of Adams Funeral Home, Nixa.

Hylton, Norma (Hamilton) 17 Mar 1930 - 13 Sep 2005 SN-L 18 Sep 2005

[Note: Daughter of Everett & Elsie Hamilton; married 1948 Wendell Hylton]

Norma Hylton was born March 17, 1930, and departed this world of the dying to enter Everlasting Life on September 13, 2005. She was the fourth child of five born to Everett and Elsie Hamilton in Portland, Kan. In 1949, she married Wendell Hylton, a rancher and builder. Two children were born to this union, David in 1950, who died of a brain aneurysm at the age of 23, and Diane (aka Ruby) in 1952. She is survived by her husband, Wendell of Nixa, Mo.; daughter, Ruby and husband, Tim Haigh of Homer, Alaska; Norma's brother, Roger Hamilton and wife, Grace of Garden City, Kan.; sister, Dorothy Murphy of West Lafayette, Ind., and sister, Elsie and husband, Len Baylor of Washington State. Surviving grandchildren are David, Corrie, and Bethany Haigh; and two great-grandchildren, Madison and Lilly. Some words from Norma: "The ranch life was pleasing to this family and there were no thoughts of changing occupations. In 1956, we were called into missions and served first in Kodiak, Alaska, to children and building. Later, we served on Hopi and Navajo Indian Reservations in Arizona, the Paiute in Nevada, the Crows in Montana, and several tribes in Oklahoma. Each move put the family in a new culture. When the children were in high school, we bought a home in Denver, Colorado. Wendell's position had changed to overseeing Mission Structures. I worked there for a large Church and later sold real estate for 20 years. In 1992, we moved to Nixa to develop land and that year I learned that I had Melanoma in my right eye. After surgery, and recovery, I was free of cancer for eight years, continuing during this time with attention to good nutrition, herbs, and exercise. In 2000, cancer had metastasized into my lungs and liver. The opinions of three Oncologists from three prominent cancer centers stated that I had eight months to live no matter how much Chemo I might take. I want to thank my Oncologist, Dr. Robert Ellis of Hematology Oncology, for allowing me to have an opinion about my own treatment. Perhaps it was not the herbs or nutrition, it could have been just God's timing, but Dr. Ellis allowed me to be in charge of my own body. Since I have never had chemo or radiation, I have donated my body to Genesis, a Medical Education and Research Institute, where over 2000 Surgeons and Researchers come each month to study new surgical procedures. I'm most grateful to a Heavenly Father who cares for His children, and most grateful for a great support group. In lieu of flowers, I suggest donations to Community Hospices of America, their staff and volunteers at 1465 E Primrose, Springfield, MO 65804. A memorial service will be at 5 p.m., Wednesday, September 21, in Adams Funeral Home, Nixa, Visitation will be from 4 to 5 p.m., before the service.

Martha James Quits after 41 Years "I'm leaving While I'm Still Wanted", By Eldena Bilyeu

Mrs. Martha James sat in her Developmental Reading Room at Ozark High School, talking of her retirement and reminiscing about the past 41 years she had been teaching. Her smile came easy and often as she looked through pictures of her students. "I want to leave while I'm still wanted," she said. "There is an old saying that if you give a teacher a dollar, she will spend half of it on something beautiful but impractical. I'm going to buy flowers and help my husband Carl plant them in the year and do all those things I've never had time for," she added. They live on McCracken Road in the house where she was born. Their son, Richard, lives with his family in Fairfax, Va. Elder Ephraim Wray, Mrs. James' great grandfather, was the first pastor of the Baptist church in Ozark. Her grandfather, W. J. Wray, was also a minister and her grandmother Wray was a teacher. Her father, John Wray, owned a hardware store in town, while her mother, Bessie, taught in the Ozark school system. Mrs. Wray also taught at the School of the Ozarks the year it opened. "Much emphasis was placed on learning in our home, and my parents through I was hopeless," remembered Mrs. James, "I had long, stringy hair and was the ugliest child you would ever see. I hated school and cried every day. The only thing I learned the first two years of school was "The Little Red Hen." Finally, at the end of another tutoring session, my exasperated mother discovered I was seeing double. The next day, I had a pair of glasses and things began to get better. I think this is the reason I went into learning disabilities in 1964. I understand I had a problem too. There usually is a reason for a child not learning. Mrs. James has seen a complete circle in clothing styles, teaching techniques and attitudes. "We really are returning to basics in many ways." She feels the single most important influence is the child's life in a home. The home sets the pattern, and then the teacher can build on it and enhance it. She said she was grateful to the 1938 board members, D. C. Leonard and Ralph Hartley, along with Supt, Chester Parker for taking a chance on her. She wanted to thank Clyde McConnell for putting up with her and asking her to return on three occasions when she had to leave. She appreciated the present faculty for making her feel needed. She also wanted to thank the parents for tolerating her mistakes over the years and, of course, thanks to the students who've made it worthwhile. As teachers and students popped in and out, exchanging pleasantries, it was obvious that this was not an ordinary room. More than math and reading problems have been solved here, because this was not an ordinary lady. Mrs. James has taught our children well over the years. The community wants for her the best in her retirement and thanks her for the challenge she has left us by her shining example.

Scholarship Being Formed

A scholarship fund honoring retiring teacher Martha James is being founded. The 1979 winner who can use the proceeds at the school of his or her choice, will be announced at the Senior Assembly at 9:30 a.m. May 22. Persons desiring to give to the fund may left at the Christian county National Ban or the Ozark Bank. Drury College or Southwest Missouri State University will match the total given, a spokesman for the fund said.

What They Think of Her . . .

From students, former students and administrators, here's what they think of Martha James: In 1948, Mrs. James was already aware that second graders read at different levels and there was a need for different reading groups. Phyllis Hilton Morton, 1959 graduate. The think that amazed us third graders was when Mrs. James would pull a stem out of her apple and split it down the middle with her thumbs. I still can't do that. Julie Major Ellison 1974 graduate. Martha James was an excellent teacher, always willing to go that extra mile for her students, Clyde McConnell, Former Ozark Superintendent. My mother had to return to the school four times when they split up our room in the middle of the year. I thought my world had ended when they took me out of Mrs. James room. Myron Grubaugh 1974 graduate. My parents and I appreciate very much the help you, along with Mr. Edwards, gave me when I first come to Ozark High School. You even had the patience to help me even though we had a lot of trouble understanding each other. Anyway, I thank you for everything and may God bless you. Jack C. Archer 1979 graduate (Archer came to Ozark from Mexico, Central America) Mrs. James went far beyond the call of duty on so many occasions. No one will ever know all the good things she has done for her students. Nancy Kisse 1949 graduate. My daughter Jenny would not have passed the first grade if Mrs. James had not brought her work to her when she had to miss 5 months of school due to illness. Syble Major 1951 graduate What can you say about a woman who can do just about anything. Everything from helping with math tests to helping us get out drivers license, to helping us get out of trouble with the office! What can we say but we love you and thank you. Jane Hanks Sears 1949 graduate. The faculty and I hate to see her leave. She is one of a kind. Mrs. James has truly made a valuable contribution over the years. Jordan Needham, Supt. of Ozark School Martha James is extra special. She is respected by adults for her outstanding teaching ability. Children give her the same respect because she is compassionate and aware of their needs. Joe Major Former Board member

Martha James Reception "It was Kind of Like a Reunion"

"It was Kind of like a reunion" . . . Mrs. Chlorene Hedgpeth And that's the way it was for Mrs. Martha James, remedial specialist closing out 41 years of leaching, all but three in Ozark; a steady trail of well-wishers, mostly students of the past , , , or their parents . . . or both . . . dropped in last Thursday afternoon to reminisce and to wish her well. Some were present students. But the students would have the next day to drop in and eat cookies and drink punch. Thursday was such as Kim Nguyen went on to School of the Ozarks. She learned English from Mrs. James. And Valerie Bilyeu, a junior, whose mother, Mrs. Ron (Eldena) Bilyeu, did such a beautiful job writing the interview for the Headliner and quoting students both past and present, on Martha James the teacher and Martha James the person. "Val", her mother said, "went to Mrs. James for help on her math. At first, she was embarrassed. Now, she's proud to be known as one of her students." Val was at the reception desk along with former students, Jenny Gregg and Julie Ellison and Syble (Mrs. Joe) Major. Naturally gracious, Mrs. James spent part of the afternoon moving about and conversing. And part of it at the memorabilia table, explaining items to guests. It was piled with yearbooks and scrapbooks and on the wall were photos and drawings of Mrs. James and posters expressing loving sentiment. the drawings from teacher Anne Lindsey's art class, were by students working form photographs taken by Michelle Crain, not much bigger than the camera dangling from her neck. The posters were lettered by art students. Clyde Heldenbrand, the youngster left almost helpless by an accident almost a year ago, was there in a wheelchair, brought by his father, Clyde, Sr. It was only Clyde, Jr.'s second visit to the school since the crash that could have killed him. Neal Grubaugh was there telling that he was Mrs. James' pupil when he was in the first grade. But before anyone could say that she certainly didn't look her age, he admitted he was joking by about 10 years. And look her age, whatever it is, she certainly didn't. Martha James could be called a radiant redhead except that it would embarrass her. "Mrs. Patty (Gary) McDaniel said, "She was like a second mama to me." Mrs. James had some jokes of her own, like the one about the Ozark couple (who will be nameless here) who were high school sweethearts and spent a lot of time holding hands (in the old building) on the stairs between the upper and lower halls, :If a teacher was coming from upstairs, they would hold hands on the down. If they were coming form downstairs, they would hold hands on the up. That way, they could hide by holding up their other hand." "I could blackmail half of the town of Ozark." she joked. Although she had taught English to a Vietnamese, she doesn't know Vietnamese language. That's the best thing. "Vietnamese pupils who learn English from Vietnamese teachers who know English almost always go back to their own language. What will Mrs. James do in her retirement? Like most facing that, she will do things she has never had time to do. "I hope to walk to my own drumbeat instead of someone else's." If she listens to most retirees, she will probably be happiest doing what she's always done - Martha James, you'll see

Sunday Crash Claims Young Countians

Tragedy in the form of a grinding automobile crash claimed the lives of two local young men shortly afternoon Sunday. The victims in Sunday's smashup were Robert Dane Prewitt, 20, Spokane and Ronald Eugene Johnson, 16, also of Spokane. Prewitt and Johnson were killed about 12:10 p.m. while enroute home from church. Troopers said a northbound auto driven by Donald Charles Southern, 55, apparently was on the wrong side of the highway when it met Prewitt's car one mile north of Spokane on U. S. 160. As Prewitt swerved in an attempt to avoid a collision, his auto skidded broadside and was struck on the right side by the other vehicle. The Prewitt automobile was knocked off the road and overturned. Officers said both Prewitt and Johnson were pronounced dead at the scene. Southern suffered head and elbow lacerations, and his wife, Virginia, 51, suffered head cuts and a concussion. They were taken to St. John's Hospital for treatment. Prewitt, a lifelong resident of Spokane, was a charter member of Calvary Fundamental Baptist Church at Ponce de Leon and was a 1970 graduate of Spokane High School. A member of the National Guard unit at Aurora, he enlisted in 1971 and trained at Fort Dix, N. J. He was attending the School of the Ozarks for the second year, and was employed at the Shepherd of the Hills Farm near Branson. He also was known for his work with Appaloosa horses and had won a number of trophies in shows. Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Prewitt; a sister, Wanda of the home; his paternal grandmother and a step grandfather, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Stewart, Spokane and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Patrick, Spokane. A resident of Spokane for three years, young Johnson was a former resident of Des Moines, Iowa. A junior at Spokane High School, he was a member of the basketball team and had recently been named "athlete of the year" by his classmates. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnson; one brother, Dennis, of Atlanta, Ga.; three sisters, Mrs. Joyce Whittington of Atlanta, Mrs. Patricia Hippert of Des Moines and Miss Annette Johnson of the home. Double funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Wednesday in Spokane High School Auditorium for both Prewitt and Johnson with Revs. Tommy Bilyeu and Bill Lancaster officiating. Both were buried in Schupbach Cemetery, Spokane with Harris of Ozark in charge of arrangements for Prewitt and Stumpff of Galena direction arrangements for Johnson.

TO OUR MANY FRIENDS

It is virtually impossible for us to write each family or friend that has been so near and dear to us during our time of loss. We thank God for so many friends, for every prayer and kind word and for every act of kindness extended to all of us. Our sons leave us with a legacy of wonderful memories and these have been enriched by Christian love and compassion shown by so many wonderful people. Food was prepared and brought by so many we cannot know the names of all for sure. May God richly bless all who helped in preparing the auditorium for the funeral, and those who marked the burial plots, sent flowers and gave to the scholarship and memorial fund; sent flowers and gave to the memorial and scholarship funds; also the minister, singers and those who were so helpful and thoughtful at the scene of the accident, many of whom we did not even know.

THE JOHNSON FAMILY. THE PREWITT FAMILY.

In Memory of Ron Johnson and Dwayne Prewitt.

Just a year ago the 30th day of this month, our sons were killed in an accident as they were coming home from Sunday School and church. The year has been long, our lives have been empty and our hours lonely. We hope and pray for you that knew Ron and Dwayne that you also know their Christ and will continue to carry on the work they were doing for God.

THEY WERE SO YOUNG. They were so young, God, so young and strong and filled with promise. So vital, so radiant, giving so much joy where ever they went. They were so brilliant. On these two boys, you lavished so many talents, they could have enriched your world. They had already received so many honors to come. Why them? In our agony, we ask, why them? Why not someone less gifted? Someone less good? Some hop-headed rioter, thief, brute, hood? Yet we know, even as we demand what seems to us a rational answer that we are only intensifying our grief. Plunging deeper into the blind and witless place where all hope is gone. A dark lost place where our own gifts will be blunted and ruin replace the goodness they bought and wished for. Instead, let us say thank you for the marvel that these boys were. That we can say goodbye to them without shame or regret, rejoicing in the blessed years they were given to us. Knowing that their bright young lives, their many gifts, have not truly been stilled or wasted, only lifted to a higher level where the rest of us can't follow yet. Separation? Yes. Loss? Never. For their spirit will be with us always. And when we meet them again, we will be even more proud. Thank you for the answer, God.

IN MEMORY OF DWAYNE PREWITT AND RON JOHNSON

Three years have gone by since that fall Sunday morning when our sons, Dwayne and Ron were killed in an accident, by an on coming car traveling in their lane, as they were coming home from church. Time hasn't made it easier, but with the grace of God., we learn to live with the hurt and loneliness and God has given us peace. A verse of scripture that Dwayne carried in his billfold has helped us and we want to share it with you, hoping it will help those who have the same hurt. Philippians Ch. 4-9: Those things which ye have both learned, and received, and heard, and seen in me, so; and the God of peace shall be with you.

[Note: Son of James & Lucinda (Hayes) Johnson; married Mary Greene Hilton 1859 - 1938]

Woodson Tyler Johnson, pioneer resident of Christian county, died peacefully in his sleep Monday afternoon at the family home in the Hopedale community five miles north of Ozark. He was 96 years of age. His father and mother, James and Lucinda Hayes Johnson, had settled on a farm in Polk County, AR; and it was there where Woodson was born Nov. 26, 1854. when Woodson was a year old the family returned to Missouri, settling in what was then known as the Highlandville community, four miles south of the present Highlandville and one mile north of present Spokane. Here the family of four was orphaned by the death of their father at the hands of bushwackers. A Union soldier, the elder Johnson had returned home on furlough in 1863 and was resting on his house porch, with his 9-year-old son Woodson on his knee, when the renegades came for him. They took him into the woods, robbed him, shot him in the back of the head, and left. Regaining consciousness, the elder Johnson crippled back to his home, was taken to a doctor in Ozark, but died 18 days later. This tragedy left an indelible impression on the mind of the lad Woodson. For a time the orphaned lad lived with an aunt and uncle in Greene County near the present Cody. He spent his young manhood, however, in the home of Col. Charles Haden on a farm south of Springfield. He was married to Mary Greene Hilton of Highlandville Feb. 15, 1877, and the couple settled down on a farm in his old home community near the present Spokane. Here their seven children were born, and six of them grew to maturity. Here began Mr. Johnson's long consecrated service to his church and community. Joining the Baptist church at 24, he became a charter member of the White Oak Church near Spokane, and with Welch, Cox, Hilton, and Davis families was instrumental in the building of Rock Spring Baptist Church, now, with additions, used as the meeting house of the Spokane church. Deprived of any but the scantiest formal education himself, Mr. Johnson was determined that his children and those of his neighbors should not suffer a similar deprivation. With Uncle Bill Cox, grandfather of Rep. Noel Cox, and Will Hilton, a brother-in-law, he took teams and wagons into northern Arkansas and hauled back pine lumber to build the White Oak school, later taken into the Spokane Consolidated District. The building is still standing and has been remodeled as a residence. Mr. Johnson served a two-year term as county assessor in 1896-97 and after moving to his late home in the Hopedale community in 1919 re-entered public life as presiding judge in Christian County court. He was in this office when the present courthouse was erected at Ozark; and had been elected for another four-year term in 1927 when he burned the last bonds of the $100,000 indebtedness on the structure on the west steps of the courthouse in 1926. One of Mr. Johnson's vivid memories of a rugged pioneer childhood concerned a lonesome horseback ride down to the Wilderness Road through Stone County to Berryville, AR and return. At the time he was but 17 and not a single homestead had been established in the virgin forest between the Uncle Jim Davis home west of present Spokane and the Kimberling Ferry on White River. Although accustomed to the abundant wild life of his home region, young Johnson mounted his horse and galloped north along the trail, spurred by fear, when he was awakened from a rest stop by the scream of a panther nearby. Mr. Johnson is survived by four sons, G.M Johnson of Route 2, Ozark; W. Lon Johnson of Colville, WA, judge of the State Superior Court, Charles Homer Johnson, a pharmacist of Pullman, WA, and Raymond E. Johnson, Christian County circuit clerk and recorder; two daughters, Mrs. Lunda Gorman of Sapulpa, OK, and Mrs. Allie Wilson of Tucson, AZ; eight grandchildren, 14 great-grandchildren, and two great-great-grandchildren. One son, James Samuel, died in infancy. His younger brothers and a sister also had preceded him in death. His wife, Mary Greene Johnson, died in 1938 and was buried at her request in Weaver cemetery two miles north of Ozark Highway 65. Mrs. Johnson chose this resting place because she had often spoken of it as one of the most beautiful natural scenes in the Ozarks. Her husband was laid beside her there in the family plot following funeral services held this Thursday afternoon at Hopedale Baptist church with the Rev. Ross Carter of Crane, former pastor and longtime friend of the deceased, assisted by the Rev. Ross Estes, present pastor, officiating. Burial was under direction of Harris of Clever. Pallbearers, all members of related families, were James Gorman, Bill Clarkson, Virgil Brown, Wilford Tate, Clayton Roller, and Simeon Maples.

[Note: Son of Carl W. & Lelia (Aughe) Joslyn; married 14 May 1933 Elizabeth Draper]

David Earl Joslyn, oldest son of Carl W. and Lelia Aughe Joslyn, was born in Lebanon on March 18, 1909, and died in O'Reilly Hospital in Springfield, MO on December 22, 1950. With his two sisters, Catherine and Dorothy, and brothers Wilbert and Robert, he lived through childhood to maturity in his father's home in Lebanon. Their mother died when Bobby was a baby, and the children received the loving care of their father's sister, Miss Alice Joslyn, now living in Denver, until the marriage of their father to Miss Elizabeth Corry. David regarded her affectionately as mother and big sister. He went through the Lebanon schools, and in 1931 graduated from the Missouri University School of Journalism, after which he worked on the local newspaper until 1936. He was married on May 14, 1933 to Miss Elizabeth Draper, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Draper. They lived in Lebanon until 1936, when David took a position with Elmer Curry at Ava, MO as Assistant Editor of the Douglas County Herald. He continued this association until after he joined the United States Armed Forces in 1944. While in training at Fort Riley, KS, he received very severe injuries from an exploding hand grenade, which terminated his connection with the active service, and from which he never entirely recovered. After his honorable discharge from the army he resumed his editorial work with the Herald until it became apparent that his physical condition precluded that class of occupation. He had for many years been an enthusiastic amateur photographer, and when a change of occupation became imperative, he took a G. I. course in photography, on completion of which he opened a studio in Ava. In 1949 he sold out his studio and resumed newspaper work as Editor of the Christian County Republican, in which capacity he remained until his death. He and his family made many devoted friends in both Ava and Ozark, to which latter city they moved in the spring of this year. He is survived by his wife, Elizabeth, known to her relatives and friends as "Bib", four daughters, Carolyn, Betty, Dorothy, and Diana, and one son David, the latter two being twins; two sisters, Catherine Conner of Lebanon, and Dorothy Campbell of Los Angeles; and a brother, Wilbert of Lebanon. A Million Memories

They called it "Ozark's Grand Ole Opry". Beverly Haworth Lines, daughter of Leo and Lucille Haworth, of Springfield, named it when she was 8 years old. All that's left of "Ozark's Grand Ole Opry" is a pile of ancient, shattered lumber. And a million memories. The shattered lumber is the remains of two buildings on the northeast corner of the square demolished recently by B. J. Maddux, owner. A large part of the sentimental memories are those of the musicians who held jam sessions every Saturday 25 years ago, playing the country favorites of Ozarkers and of others who jammed into the old building or stood outside to listen. One of the tunes was "Greene County Breakdown" written by Leo "Curly" Haworth as the theme of a band he led several years ago called the Greene County Ramblers, named for an auto agency the Ramblers played on sponsored shows. One of the musicians was By (Byron) Kelley said to be Ozark's last black citizen when he died last January. By Kelley's death inspired one of the most heavily attended funerals in Ozark history and eulogies by prominent citizens, including Mayor Fesperman. Leader of the jam sessions was Emanuel Wood with his fiddle, still sawing away at 79, donating his music to the Saturday night parties held once a month at the Senior Citizen's Center. His sons Ray and Rex often join in the Center sessions. Other musicians included Thelma Wood Hermilla (bass), David Boyd (banjo), Nelson Hermilla (guitar), Mrs. Posey of Ava (electric guitar) and Leo and his fiddle. Emanuel Wood who sold the building to Maddux more than 20 years ago, occasionally plays at Silver Dollar City with the Haworths and their group. John Osborn and Glen Mackey could always be counted on to jig-dance at the jamborees. Beverly Haworth when she was 8 asked if she could give the Grand Ole Opry name. She climbed up on a bench and did the lettering on the tattered wall behind the seated listeners. By Kelley and his upright bass gained fame in St. Louis when the Ramblers were invited for a department store's celebration of St. Louis's 150th anniversary in 1976. The band's appearance depended on Kelley's being included, as a salute to the black citizens of St. Louis. Haworth said his group has been invited again, next summer, for an appearance in St. Louis, by the same store, Famous-Barr. Kelley can't make it. He's on a permanent engagement with that Big Jam Session in the Sky.

Mike Crain's 'Grand Ole Opry' Pictures

The pictures here were developed for the Headliner by Mike Crain from negatives taken at least 25 years ago. They were taken during Saturday night jam sessions in what was called 'Ozark's Grand Ole Opry' in buildings on the northeast corner of the Square, demolished about a month ago. Identifications were by Emanuel Wood, leader of the pickers and fiddlers Dean Harris and Leo and Lucille Haworth (assisted by Geneva Huff). The latter three live in Springfield. Photo 1 caption - Marge Howell smiles and "counts the house" while Emanuel Woods, mustached and dark haired around a quarter-century ago, coaxes oldtime music out of his fiddle. Photo 2 caption - Mrs. Posey of Ava starts the left to rights in this Mike Crain photo, with her electric guitar, woman with back to camera unidentified, behind her Marge Howell, then Emanuel Wood, Dave Boyd, Nelson Hermilla, Ray Wood (guitar) and Byron (By) Kelley admiring Thelma Wood Hermilla's technique on the upright piano. Photo 3 caption - Here are some spectators from around 25 years ago at Ozarks Saturday night Grand Ole Opry, the name given and painted by Beverly Haworth Lines of Springfield when she was 8 years old. From left, Dora Lee Barnett who died this past March 30, John Osborn and Mr. and Mrs. Brady Wood. Photo 4 caption - Identifications of this Mike Crain's photo group. Mrs. Bob (Dude) Herndon, Madge Howell, Mrs. Posey of Ava and her electric guitar, Dave Boyd (banjo), dancers John Osborn (hat) and Glen Mackey. Behind Osborn on the upright piano is Thelma Wood Hermilla. Photo 5 caption - The late Byron (By) Kelley, fingering the bull fiddle about 25 years ago in Ozark's Grand Ole Opry. Profile at left is Thelma Wood Hermilla, probably playing the guitar. She also played the upright bass fiddle and still does. (Story from Kelley's funeral last March is inside today's Headliner)

At Long Last - The By Kelley Story, By Joe Cody, News Editor

"Why don't you do a story on By Kelley?" By Kelley? Who's By Kelley. These were a reader's question and my answer when Byron Kelley died last March 2, just 13 days short of his 87th birthday. "He was Ozark's last black citizen." Well, what else. "Er - I'll look around and find someone to tell you about By." We were new in Ozark last March, and in our haste to get on with the "important" news, we never got around to learning about By Kelley. Then J. B. Maddux tore down his old buildings on the northeast corner of the Square. And somebody said, : for years, they held country music jam sessions there on Saturday nights.: Then, Mike Crain brought us prints of pictures he took he doesn't know how many years ago, of Emanuel Wood and his "Ozark's Grand Ole Opry" and of spectators who gathered every Saturday night to listen., In one of the photos was By Kelley pounding out rhythms on a bass fiddle. We began to ask around and found that Kelley's funeral was one of the biggest Ozark ever had . . . that 250 to 300 people attended . . . that those who couldn't get into the 200-seat chapel at the Adams Funeral Home stood outside and listen via loudspeaker. The even before, 100 to 125 visited with the family. At the funeral, they heard a minister and five other white resident eulogize By Kelley as a gentle, highly respected man who brought musical joy and inspiration to uncounted thousands in Ozark and Silver Dollar City. (He also played in St. Louis during that city's sesquicentennial in 1976). About him, it seemed nobody could think of an unkind thought. We learned there was a tape recording of the service. It was made by Anthony McConnell, Ozark lawyer and lifelong friend of Kelley. Mrs. Thelma Adams obtained it for us from Mrs. Dorothy Kelley who lives now in her father's home.

On an inside page, we are publishing excerpts from the tributes paid to Kelley at his funeral.

By Kelley's Funeral One of Ozark's Biggest.

Eulogies from Ozark residents marked the funeral service last March 6 of Byron (By) Kelley. Among them were Dwight Hawkins, Mayor Leon Fesperman, Homer Lawing, Anthony McConnell and Mrs. Janis Rhodes. The pallbearers were Algia Gray, Hawkins, Ted Green, Loyce Bilyeu, Delbert Cook and H. A. Buddette. The soloist was Mrs. Janis Rhodes. Mrs. Freda Sweet was the organist. Dr. James Kellett, minister, Ozark Christian Church, was the officiant. Dr. Kellett included these poetic points in his long eulogy. "Your years of life were a lovely song, the last sweet notes of which stood long. You passed into silence while we listened. We who loved you listen still, expectantly, and we feel that grief for you was surely wrong. You have merely passed beyond where we cannot see. For us who know you, dead of ages past, you took life tiptoe to the very last. It never lost its lovely look, You kept your interest in its thrill book. To you, death came no conquering in the end. You merely waved and smiled at another friend." "Here was a man who came to be loved and respected by the whole town of Ozark. Hawkins "We are here today to honor By and pay our last respects to him whom I consider one of Ozark's finest citizens. He has lived here his entire life. "By started work for my father in the flour mill when I was seven years old. He continued for practically forty years. He was the first colored person that I had ever seen. "By was a man who would give you an honest day's work. I've seen By come to work many times when he was really too sick to work, but it was a loyalty to his job that he showed up to do his work. "I worked side by side with By for several years at different levels of work and I never thought of him any different than I did the white men who worked for my father, and I always thought that practically all the citizens of Ozark felt the same way and think those thoughts are proven here today by so many of you being here to pay your final respects to By, and by the many beautiful flowers. "When his wonderful wife Odessa was living, they were both very active in the Ozark Christian Church. After she passed away, By never attended much, but he was loyal - he always had someone come by to give them his monthly financial contribution to the church. "By loved his music and he thrilled many people. A lot of you have heard his bass fiddle. I can remember when I was real young, you heard the music in someone's yard, it would be By and somebody playing and a bunch of us younger people would go and we'd dance out in the yard. You could catch them in different parts of town. And, as you all know, later he played at Silver Dollar City. His heart was with his music. His heart was in being a good friend to everyone. "About two weeks ago, I had a long visit with By, whom I considered my very close friend. and my closing thought today is that God has gained a friend and that Ozark has lost one. McConnell - "I feel like God has blessed Ozark by letting By Kelley live with us. I feel like we have had a real spiritual life by seeing By every day and by seeing him smile. Fesperman - "As the mayor of Ozark, I'm speaking for the people. He was a very good citizen. Janis Rhodes - "Today is the end of an era in Ozark. I think we all respected By. I remember growing up in the Christian Church. They were always there. Lawing recalled that he knew Kelley as a boy because "my parents raised him."

'Contract' Case Will Be Tried, Prosecutor Says

The verdict of "innocent" for Mrs. Nila Kimes, 44, of Ozark County, decided Saturday by a jury in Forsyth, will not change a plan to try a related case in the Christian County Circuit Court, Larry Luna, Ozark County Prosecuting Attorney said today. Debbi Sue Liperi, 28, Mrs. Kimes' daughter and Kimes' step-daughter, is presently awaiting trial in Christian County on a change of venue from Ozark County, also on a capital murder charge. Mrs. Kimes had been charged with capital murder in connection with the shooting death of her husband, Robert 41, last July 23, on their farm near Thornfield. The principal witness against Mrs. Kimes, at the trial on a change of venue in Taney County, was Doris Ann Willingham, 19 of Tulsa, who spent several hours in the witness stand on Friday. Gist of her testimony was that Mrs. Kimes took part in the planning of the 'contract' killing of her husband. Debbi Sue Liperi, 28, Mrs. Kimes' daughter and Kimes' step-daughter, is presently awaiting trial in Christian County on a change of venue from Ozark County, also on a capital murder charge. Two other persons face action in the case, Mrs. Kimes' son, Steven Berg, 26 and Terry Yingst, 26, of Tulsa. Mrs. Kimes was said to have offered $25,000 for the slaying of her husband. The jury freed Mrs. Kimes, Luna said, as the State cannot appeal it.

Bullet Wounds Fatal for Willard Kissee

Woman Faces Murder Count

Willard Kissee, 57, well known Reeds Spring cattleman, was fatally shot last Sunday morning at a residence near Crane and a woman acquaintance has been charged with first degree murder in connection with his death. Charges were filed at Galena Monday against Lenora Gwen Hurley, 39, who lives with her parents three miles south of Crane. Lamar, Bertha Elizabeth (Everly) 6 Sep 1914 - 20 Apr 2006 SN-L 2 May 2006

[Note: Daughter of Elmer & Gladys (McIntosh) Everly; married Jan 1937 Edward L. Lamar]

Bertha Elizabeth Lamar, the daughter of Elmer and Gladys (McIntosh) Everly, was born on September 6, 1914, in the log cabin that her great-grandfather built when he came home from the Civil War, and where her grandfather and father were also born. On April 28, 2006, she passed away in her home, at the age of 91. Bertha was raised in a Christian home and gave her heart to Jesus when she was nine years old. Bertha stated, "As the oldest child I resented some of the responsibilities I had to assume. At times I was extremely stubborn, adamantly refusing to be obedient. Being a regular attendant at church, I knew that someday I would have to make a decision about yielding my life to Christ. I felt guilt about my stubbornness and just couldn't sleep as I should. One night I just got out of bed, knelt and gave my life to God, promising to follow in all ways but especially asking help to overcome my problems. Then I made a public profession at our next revival, and was baptized in a creek when the weather got warmer. Being a Christian means letting Jesus be Lord of my life. It means striving to be Christ-like in all things. It means being able to walk in direct communication with God. It means being able to let others see Jesus in me." For many years she was a faithful member of Grant Avenue Baptist Church, where she was a Sunday School teacher, worked in the nursery, sang in the choir, and was a member of the Women's Missionary Union. In January 1937, Bertha was united in marriage with Edward L. Lamar and to this union five children were born. She was a devoted mother. Her children remember the songs she sang, the stories she told that passed on her heritage, the things she taught them about living-to always do your best and look for the positive in everything but most of all the way she lived that showed them God's love. For 30 years she was active in the Ozark Dogwood Trails Council of the Girl Scouts. She worked as a leader and trainer and served as Second Vice President of the council. During her free time, she enjoyed working with roses, writing poetry, sewing, crafts, gardening, working with herbs and plants. She also enjoyed reading and was an excellent cook. Bertha is survived by two sons, John and his wife, LaVonna, of Kansas City, Missouri, and Joe Lamar, of Republic; two daughters, Barbara Morgan and her husband, Von, of Ozark and Harriet List and her husband, Rick, of Branson; one son-in-law, Thomas Shane, of Ozark; 16 grandchildren, 21 great grandchildren and nine great great-grandchildren. She is also survived by four sisters-in-law, two brothers-in-law, many cherished nieces, nephews and cousins and a host of treasured friends, especially those at Franciscan Villa where she resided for the past eight years. She was preceded in death by her parents, husband, one daughter, Marlene Shane, three grandchildren, one brother and two sisters. Funeral services will be 2 p.m. Wednesday, May 3, 2006, in the chapel of Thieme-Shadel Funeral Service at White Chapel. Interment will follow in White Chapel Memorial Gardens. The family will receive friends from 1 p.m. until service time on Wednesday. In her honor, memorials may be made to the St. John's Hospice House, 1378 E. Republic Road, Springfield, Missouri 65804, or may be left with the funeral home. Even though she lived alone for the past 16 years, Bertha was always quick to say, "I really don't live alone, God is always there with me. We have good talks, my Lord and I. He is my total peace and happiness." Bertha will be deeply missed by her family until they join her in her wonderful Heavenly home. Online memorial condolences may be left at www.thieme-shadel.com.
