And not only along the river, but also in the interior of the country, many new settlements were founded after the close of the war of 1812. Thus Augustus Thrall settled in 1816 in what is now Boone county and the neighborhood in which he established himself became known as Thrall's Prairie. Here John and William Berry, William Baxter and Reuben Gentry also settled. Columbia and the State University is now situated in this locality. In 1816 farms were opened on the Boonslick trace by Aaron Watson, William Coats, a Baptist preacher, and his brother, James Coats, John Logan, Joseph Callaway, Robert Read, Thomas Kitchens, William Pratt, and John Gibson, all within the present limits of Callaway. James Van Bibber then had a farm at "Van Bibber's Lick." Van Bibber married Eliza Hays, a granddaughter of Daniel Boone. On the Aux Vase, nine miles from Fulton, on this Boonslick road, another settlement sprang up.⁵⁰ Martin Palmer hunted and trapped in the limits of the present Carroll county in 1817 and in 1819, John Stanley and William Turner settled near the place where is now located Carrollton. In the later year a number of pioneer immigrants also settled in what is now Clay county.⁵¹ An Englishman named Robert Littleby, hunted and trapped on a small stream now known as Littleby creek, a tributary of Salt river, in the territory of Audrain county in 1818, but in 1822 moved to the Platte country. As early as 1808, a number of immigrants from South Carolina and Kentucky settled in Pike county.⁵² John Bozarth was the first settler near buildings, the most important being his present residence on corner of Main and Maryland streets, a brick structure of modern architecture. He is a member of the city council and has been since 1879, and is also a member of the school board, of which he has been secretary ever since his election in 1880. December 19, 1860, he married Elizabeth A. Rodgers, of Bowling Green. They have four children: Willie H., a clerk in his father's store; Ada F., Clarence R., and Bessie. Himself and wife are members of the First Baptist Church of Louisiana, of which he is sabbath-school superintendent. He is a Master Mason and member of Globe Lodge No. 495, A. F. & A. M., of Louisiana, of which he is secretary. He is also a member of Riverside Lodge No. 22, A. O. U. W., of Louisiana.

Isaac Newton Bryson, Sr., is one of the few old residents of Louisiana still living. He was born on a farm near Yorkville, the county seat of York county, South Carolina, February 13, 1809. His parents came to Missouri in 1816, and settled in Pike county, then a portion of St. Charles county, his father pre-empting the land that is now the site of Louisiana city, which he soon afterwards sold, when he purchased land on Grassy Creek, near Mud Lick Spring, five miles west of Louisiana, where he died in 1821. After his father's death, our subject continued to live with his mother on the farm until manhood, and received a fair education by attending the common subscription schools. At the age of nineteen he began teaching and taught in the country schools for two years. In February, 1831, he came to Louisiana, and was employed in the store of Campbell & Burbridge as a clerk for three years, when he became associated with John L. Williams in general merchandising in the firm name of Williams & Bryson, Mr. Williams dying some eighteen months after they engaged in business. Mr. Bryson carried on the business in the firm name until the expiration of the term of partnership, in 1838. In 1839 he became associated with William O. Hardin and Julius C. Jackson in the same business, in the firm style of I. N. Bryson & Co. Mr. Jackson soon after retiring from the firm, he, with Mr. Hardin, retaining the firm name, continued in business without interruption for fifteen years, up to 1855. In 1845 they built the block of stores on the corner of Main and Georgia streets, which they still own. After he and Mr. Hardin discontinued the mercantile business, he never embarked in it again, but invested in real estate, buying two farms in the vicinity of Louisiana, which he has farmed by tenants, he residing in Louisiana. In 1877, he being a stockholder of the National Bank of the State of Missouri, at St. Louis, with many others, lost heavily by its suspension. Although not an aspirant to office, he has served several years in the city if taken without the State, for the apprehension and delivery of said John Barry to the Sheriff of Woodford county.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the Commonwealth to be affixed at Frankfort, on the 22nd day of December, 1840, and in the 49th year of the Commonwealth.

By the Governor, R. P. LETCHER,
JAMES HARLAN, Sec'y of State.

The said John Barry is about 6 feet one inch high, large frame, rather fleshy, weighs about 220 pounds, rough and blunt in his manners, and dark skin, hazle eyes an impediment in his speech, and a large mole on his cheek, believed to be the left one. His hair is black, bushy, and becoming grey. He has rather a frowning countenance, heavy dark eyebrows that meet in the center, rather stubby nose; and thick lips, and wears green double glass spectacles. He is about 46 years old. The friends of the deceased will give Two Hundred Dollars, in addition to the reward offered by the Governor, if the Murderer is taken out of the State.
