The youngest son we have record of died before 1880 and while we do not have his birth date we have the 1850 census that gives his age as 25, the 1860 census gives his age as 33 and the 1870 census has it as 40 years. If his age of 25 was correct in 1850 then he should have been 35 in 1860 and 45 in 1870. If Joseph provided the Assistant Marshals with his age it appears he didn't know what his age was from one census to another. One source states that Joseph was married and lived in Newark before all the Doolittle families of William came to Crawford County, Illinois, sometime in the year 1848.

4. Joseph Doolittle was born about 1825/30

To return to the census record of 1820 (Niagara Co., N.Y.) William Doolittle's family had one free white male of age 10 to 16 and two free white males of an age "under 10".

Varnal, the eldest son we now have knowledge of, if born between 1810 and 1819 would have been one of the two males under the age of 10. Thus there were two more male than we can account for.

A (Male) Doolittle born between 1804 and 1810

A (Male) Doolittle born between 1810 and 1820

In the 1830 census William Doolittle's family had one free white male, age 10 to 15; three free white males, age 5 to 10 and one free white male under the age of 5. The male, age 10 to 15 thus was born between 1815 and 1820. This appears to be his eldest male child in 1830 and if born in 1815 would it seem most likely to have been Varnal.

The three males who are ages 5 to 10 were all born between the years of 1820 and 1825 and it would seem likely that Wilson, born 2 June 1821, Wm. Rochester, born 4 April 1824 and Joseph, born about 1825 would have been these three males who are recorded here. If so then we have one male under 5 years of age left that is unaccounted for. If Joseph was born after 1825 he would have been the one recorded as under 5 years and then one of those 5 to 10 years old is unaccounted for. I believe that is highly possible and if Joseph was born after 1825 it would be thus:

A (Male) Doolittle born between 1820 and 1825 if not one born between 1826 and 1830

CONCLUSIONS:

A (Male) Doolittle, born between 1804 and 1810, as recorded in the 1820 census, does not appear to be in the 1830 census. If he was born in 1804 he would have been about 26 years old in 1830 or if born as late as 1810 would be about 20 years old. Did he die young or did he leave home and go out on his own?

A (Male) Doolittle, born between 1810 and 1820, also does not appear to be in the 1830 census. If he was born in 1810 he would

P. DOOLITTLE FUNERAL HE

of Mrs. Doolittle Died at Hos at Clarinda Last Week and Funeral Services are Held at This Place.

Alfred Perry Doolittle was born in Crawford County, Ill. on December 22, 1854 and was a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Doolittle. In 1866 he came with his parents to Story County where they settled on a farm in La Fayette township where he has since lived with the exception of the past six years when he has been confined in the hospital at Clarinda. Of late he has been rather poorly, but reports were getting so encouraging the last few weeks that hopes were entertained by his aged mother and other relatives that he might come home in the Spring, but he was suddenly taken worse and died Friday, February 4, 1910, he was nearly 56 years old. Besides his aged mother he leaves four brothers, Frank D. Doolittle, of Story City, Iowa; J. P. Brown, of Gilbert and Miss Emma at his place. There are many other relatives and friends who mourn his death. All his brothers and sisters were present at the funeral.

The remains were brought here Sunday evening and funeral services were conducted on Tuesday at the Doolittle residence by Rev. G. Simons and Mrs. O. N. Boyd sang a couple very pretty selections after which the remains were taken to the Sheffield cemetery where interment took place. Many friends from a distance who attended the funeral were Messrs. Messrs. Harry Duda, of Story City, Frank Cobb, of Boone Esob Wier, of Story City, H. C. Doolittle and daughter

EMMA DOOLITTLE
DIES TUESDAY IN STORY CITY HOSPITAL

Story City (Special) -- Miss Emma Doolittle, 82, died in the Story City Hospital last night shortly after 6 o'clock. She had been a patient there the last three weeks after suffering a heart attack at the Sunset Home where she had lived since Oct. 20, 1943.

She was born March 20, 1865, on a farm near Story City and had lived in or near Story City all her life.

Only survivor is a brother, William Doolittle, of Story City.

Funeral services will be in the chapel of the Sunset Home as she requested, with Rev. E. R. Rorem in charge, but the time and place of burial have not been decided.

Death notice from the STORY CITY HEARLD
(She died March 25, 1947)
