Francois M. Barney, a native of Pike county, was born May 12, 1837, and is a son of Joseph W. Barney, dec., who came to this county in 1824. His grandfather, Benjamin B. Barney, was one of the first pioneers of this county, and erected the first horse-mill in the county for grinding corn. This aged gentleman crossed the plains to California in 1840, being then in his 91st year, and arrived there in apparently good health, but died on ship-board while returning, in 1854. Our subject was raised on a farm and received a common-school education; in 1866 he married Miss S. A. Furry, daughter of Christopher Furry, dec. They have had 5 children, 3 of whom are living, viz:—Cora B., William R. and Edgar F. He has held the office of Town Clerk, and is at present the Police Magistrate for the village of Time. He served 3 years in Co. A, 20th Reg. I. V. I., as a private in the late war, and was in the battles of Fort Donelson, Shiloh, Siege of Vicksburg, Britton's Lane, Kennesaw Mountain, Champion Hills, Raymond and others; he also participated in the Meridian raid, in which he came well-nigh being captured. He is a harness-maker by trade, but failing health required him to seek another vocation, and he now keeps a grocery store in Time.

Henry Benn, son of William and Sarah Benn, was born Sept. 18, 1833, in this tp. His father, dec., came to this county in 1826, being one of the first settlers of Hardin tp., and was Captain of the Home Guards in the early days of the county's history. He was a native of Kentucky, and a farmer by occupation. He first settled on sec. 7, where he died in 1859. Mrs. Benn resides with her son David, in this tp., at the age of 74 years. Our subject was raised on a farm and is now engaged in farming and stock-raising on the old home place. April 17, 1858, he married Matilda J. McClintock, daughter of Robert McClintock, dec., who came to this county in an early day. Mr. and Mrs. Benn have 9 children,—Charles F., Hettie M., Ida J., Evalina, William R., Lillie and Lulu (twins), Lora and John H. In the year 1857, while chopping wood with a neighbor, Mr. Benn received a blow, by accident, upon his left hand, from the ax of the neighbor, crippling him for life.

Thomas B. Burbridge, farmer and stock-raiser, sec. 29; son of Robert Burbridge, dec., a native of Kentucky, was born in Bath county, Ky., Feb. 28, 1818; came with his parents to Pike county, Mo., in 1825, where he remained until the Spring of 1840, when he removed to this county. His father followed farming until his death, which occurred in the spring of 1842. Our subject, being a pioneer, has seen many Indians, and has ridden on horseback to mill, a distance of 6 miles, where he sometimes had to wait all day and all night for his grinding, with nothing to eat but parched corn; he went 3 miles to school, which was taught by subscription, about 3 months in the year, in a log building, with split logs for seats, a log taken out of one side of the house for a window, a huge fire-place in one end of the room for heating; the writing desk consisted of a puncheon supported by pins in the wall. Mr. B.

came to this county in 1839, where he has since resided. In 1842 he married Mary McNary, daughter of John McNary, dec., and they had 7 children,—Cynthia, Jaly, Robert, John, James, Thomas and Harriet. Mrs. B. died in 1862, and April 12, 1866, he married Emily Hodge, who died Oct. 9, 1875. Mr. B. is surrounded by his children, who take good care of him in his old age.

James H. Conboy is a native of Ireland, and was born in 1833; his parents died when he was quite young, leaving him penniless; about the year 1837 he was brought to America; is a shoemaker by trade, at which he has been very successful. He now resides at Time, owning 400 acres of valuable land, and is engaged in farming and stock-raising. In 1860 he married Lucy Bagley, and their children are John, William, Philip, Ella, Alvina and Raymond. We give Mr. C's portrait in this volume.

John Couch was born in Highland county, Ohio, April 4, 1833, and is a son of John and Elizabeth Couch; he was raised on a farm and came to this county in 1854; was married in 1855 to Margaret Colvin and they have 9 children, namely, Alfred M., Samantha A., Winfield S., Elizabeth J., John W., Benton, Charles, Wesley and Mary A. Mr. C. is engaged in farming and resides on sec. 27. P. O., Time.

Miss Ellen Cromwell, Principal of the Public Schools, Time, Pike county, Ill.

Benjamin C. Culver, sec. 20, was born in Chittenden county, Vt.; was raised on a farm and educated in the common schools at home. He came to this county in 1858, settling on sec. 20. He has been married 3 times and is the father of 9 children, viz: Lucina, Jackson, Clarissa, Giles, Judson, Jay L., Mary, Adell and Willy E., dec.

Jackson C. Culver, son of the preceding, was born in Erie county, Pa., April 20, 1834; came with his parents to Pike county in 1859; served 4 years and 7 months in the late war in Co. L, 12th Reg. Penn. Cav; was in the second battle of Bull Run, Antietam, Gettysburg, Winchester and others; was taken prisoner at Gettysburg and confined in Libby prison 6 weeks; was then removed to Bell island in James river, where he was held 3 months and exchanged. He was wounded near Harper's Ferry, in his right ankle, which rendered him a cripple for life. He is engaged in the mercantile business in Independence, this county, and carries a stock of about $3,000, consisting of dry-goods, groceries, boots and shoes, hardware, queensware,—in fact, everything kept in a first-class general store. He has won the confidence of the people and is doing a good business. Feb. 11, 1872, he married Martha, daughter of Samuel Smart, of Detroit tp.

James Dinsmore, an early pioneer, was born in Fleming county, Ky., Sept. 25, 1808; came to Scott county in 1825, where he saw plenty of Indians, and in 1831 he went into the Black Hawk war; was present or near by at the evacuation by the Indians of an Indian town at Rock Island, Ill. In May, 1819, he was married to

Other Children of the McNary, W. W. Jones and Felix Collard Families

THE PIKE COUNTY McNarys have been identified with the county's history for more than a century. Many in Pike county, other than those who bear the McNary name, are descended from this pioneer line. Eliza McNary (daughter of Pioneer James), as we have seen, married Marion Phillips, and their daughter, Carrie Elizabeth, in Oregon married William Walter Jones, son of Earl Douglas Jones and Mary Jane Collard, and they became the parents of Victor Wayne Jones of Seattle, whose records of the Jones and Collard families have been so often quoted in this history.

Related to the McNary line are numerous of the Pike county Burbridges, Weavers, Foremans and those descended from the marriage of Mary (Polly) McNary to Thomas B. Burbridge, pioneer of Hardin township. Mary McNary was a daughter of John and Elizabeth McNary and a niece of James McNary, from whom descends Charles Linza McNary, senior United States Senator from the state of Oregon.

Thomas B. Burbridge and Mary (Polly) McNary were married in Pike county by the noted Elder James Burbridge on January 20, 1842, this date, which in other records appears as 1841, being fixed by the certification of Elder Burbridge himself, found among old records at the court house after considerable search.

Sons of Thomas B. and Polly (McNary) Burbridge were Robert, John W., James and Thomas Jefferson Burbridge. Daughters included Cynthia Ann Burbridge (Mrs. Harvey Weaver), Jaley Burbridge (Mrs. Abe Caley) and Harriet Burbridge (Mrs. Anderson Foreman). Only Robert Burbridge of Pittsfield is now living.

Thomas B. Burbridge and his wife lived in Pike county when it was a wild land. Indians were numerous. To the 1880 historian Thomas Burbridge related that he had ridden on horseback to mill a distance of six miles, where he had to wait sometimes all day and all night for his grinding, with nothing to eat but parched corn; he went three miles to school, which was taught by subscription, about three months in the year, in a log building with split logs for seats, a log taken out of the side of the house for a window, a huge fireplace in one end of the room for heating, the writing desk a puncheon supported by pins in the wall.

Thomas B. Burbridge was born in Kentucky in 1818 and came alone to Illinois in 1840 where, two years later, he married Mary McNary. They settled on Section 29, Hardin township, and there spent the remainder of their lives. He was a son of Robert Burbridge, grand old Pike county pioneer, whose father had emigrated from Virginia to Kentucky when that state was a wilderness. In Kentucky, Robert Burbridge followed farming and there he married a Miss Richards. In 1825 they moved to Pike county, Missouri, settling near Louisiana, and from there they came across the Mississippi to Pike county, Illinois, in 1841. In this county Robert Burbridge, Sr. died in 1849, his wife in 1852.

Mary McNary Burbridge died at the family home in Hardin in July, 1861, and Thomas B. Burbridge afterward married Emily Hodge. There were nine children of the first marriage, two of whom died young. Mr. Burbridge was a Republican in politics and in his home community he served as road commissioner and school director. He and his first wife were active workers in the Christian church. Thomas B. Burbridge died in August, 1888, being survived by the seven children already named, of whom Robert, now in his 90th year, is the only one living.

Hugh McNary, brother of Polly, on May 27, 1847, in Pike county, married Nancy Barney. On the same day Nancy's sister, Ruth Barney, married Henry Smith. The pioneer minister, Joseph Turnbaugh, performed the rites in a double ceremony.

Hugh and Nancy Barney McNary had a son, John B. McNary, who died in Pleasant Vale township July 24, 1912. He married Susan Campbell Joslyn of Independence, a daughter of William Campbell and Jane Zumwalt. They were married at Pittsfield June 30, 1881, with Justice Dan H. Bodine officiating.

William McNary, another son of Hugh and Nancy, married Tisa (Kade) Crowder of Atlas, a daughter of Henry and Margaret Kade, December 11, 1887. Hugh L. McNary, son of Hugh and Nancy, married Anna Kropp, daughter of A. C. and E. R. (Drescher) Kropp, at New Canton August 2, 1892. John H. McNary of Hardin township married Olive Burbridge of Spring Creek, at Pittsfield, September 9, 1886.

Numerous McNary descendants have been inhabitants of Pleasant Vale township for many years, among them Jasper N. McNary, who married Eliza Personett; Alfred C. McNary (son of Jasper), who married Elsie L. Hathaway; Frank McNary (son of John B.) who married Bertha Schoolcraft; and Charles McNary, who married Loretta Pfeiffer, a native of O'Fallon, Illinois.

The McNarys of the above line, descending from the Pike county pioneers of the name, will appear in this history in another connection.

William Walter Jones, sixth of the children of Earl Douglas and Mary Jane (Collard) Jones, in boyhood stayed with his father on the latter's homestead near Sandy, Oregon. In early life he followed the timber and fishing industries. He married Carrie Elizabeth Phillips in 1888, she a daughter of Marion and Eliza (McNary) Phillips. He built a house on his portion of the 22 acres he inherited from his mother's estate at Clackamas. On December 6, 1900, he arrived in Seattle with his family.

He was sexton of Mt. Pleasant cemetery in Seattle shortly after his arrival there. In August, 1902, he moved to the Green Lake district of the city, and in April, 1903, bought property at 6413 Tenth Avenue, N. E. (now Roosevelt Way). He was employed by the Seattle Electric Company and was foreman of the logging camps of the Green Lake Mill Company. About 1909 he engaged in the fuel business, continuing until 1916, when he did logging on a small scale, taking off the last timber within the present city limits of Seattle. This timber belonged to the grand old pioneer of Se-

History of Hardin Township.

This Township is well skirted with good timber, and the soil is thoroughly bedded with gray limestone, and well watered with five running streams, making it well calculated for either farming or raising stock. Benjamin Barney and James Evert were the first white settlers in Hardin, in the year 1837, and made improvements on Sec. 9. Mr. Barney remained on his premises until 1849 when he went to California, and remained there two years, and died on his return home in 1851. Mr. Evert remained on his farm until his death, which was about 1858. Solomon Mabe, Aaron Thornton, Ebenezer Bagbee and N. D. Bagbee were among the first to settle and make improvements in Hardin, Nathaniel Thornton and Mrs. Luclada Bagbee were the first married, the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Lewis Allen, of the Baptist denomination. Eli Malard was the first Justice of the Peace, and Geo. Gibson was the first Supervisor. The first sermon was preached by the Rev. Mr. Heater, of the Methodist faith, at the house of E. Bagbee, in 1838. We have not been able to get the information as to who was the first person born, or the first death in this Township.
